

ATTORNEY GENERAL CONTINUES PROBE

Grand Jury Blames Sheriff For Vice

BULLETIN—Just 24 hours after the attorney general announced that his office is continuing its investigation into vice conditions in Contra Costa County, Assistant Attorney General Clarence Linn charged yesterday that "Apparently Sheriff Young won't be satisfied until he's removed from office."

Linn replied to Young's lengthy statement issued yesterday with the announcement that the attorney general's office is launching a full-scale probe into the county Wednesday.

Attorney General Stanley Mosk said Wednesday, "The investigation of the State Department of Justice into vice and gambling in Contra Costa County is not closed."

HIS STATEMENT came close on the heels of a blistering, three and a half page report issued by the Contra Costa Grand Jury Tuesday, which closed, at least temporarily, the panel's six-week investigation into conditions in the county.

The report scathed the sheriff's office in particular, stating, "gambling and prostitution have been existent within Contra Costa County with the full knowledge of the sheriff's department, and that no aggressive steps, on the part of the sheriff's personnel, to curb or eliminate known gambling and prostitution, have been made in the last six months preceding the start of the grand jury investigation."

Six other findings of the special panel sessions are listed, including the fact that reports which "strongly indicated" prostitution in the county were made to Sheriff Walter Young and Undersheriff Harry Ramsay, but that no action was taken or followed through by the vice control officer named for this assignment—Inspector Barden Carlson, recently relieved of his vice control duties.

GRAND JURY members, in the report, also listed six recommendations, calling for closer cooperation between the sheriff's office and the district attorney's office and calling on the sheriff to "rid his department of the certain law enforcement personnel who have not conscientiously performed their duties."

In a two-paragraph summation which follows the recommendations, the report states, "It is unfortunate that this investigation . . . casts unfavorable reflections" on the sheriff's office and its personnel.

IT CONCLUDED, "The people of the county should rest assured that the law enforcement agencies contain many fine and sincere officers deserving a high degree of respect."

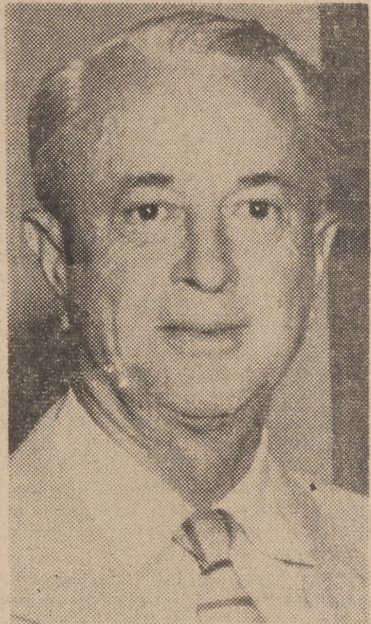

Mosk, when contacted in relation to the report, said, "The grand jury's investigation and report speaks for itself."

District Attorney John Nejedly said yesterday, "The attorney general is the chief law enforcement officer of the state, and if it is his determination that further investigation is needed in the county, we will accept his determination."

Here is the full text of the grand jury's report: The grand jury, in special sessions called for the purpose of vice investigation, has throughout the series of meetings been presented with uncontradicted evidence which bears out the following:

- THAT AN allegation of general lack of law enforcement in Contra Costa County as concerned with vice activities had been brought to the attention of the attorney general's office who became concerned with the situation and instituted an independent investigation with their own personnel. Much of the evidence concerned with existing gambling was obtained by these investigators. Concurrently, the district attorney's office was also concerned with the general lack of law enforcement relative to vice conditions and after an attempted bribe offer, appealed to the attorney general's office for assistance. The evidence as given to the grand jury is derived from the corroborated efforts of these two offices.
- THAT GAMBLING and prostitution have been existent within Contra Costa County with the full knowledge of the sheriff's department.

Young Says He's State 'Scapegoat'

In a prepared release, Sheriff Walter Young charged that he has been made the scapegoat for the "policy of the attorney general's office."

Young comments, made to the press Wednesday, were in answer to the grand jury's report blasting the sheriff's office for gambling and prostitution conditions in the county. (See additional story.)

HE SAID: "The charges of the grand jury echoed on unjustified criticism leveled at the sheriff's office by malcontents from within and without."

"It is regrettable that the grand jury has seen fit to make the sheriff's office the scapegoat" (Continued on Page 3)

3 Police Chiefs Meet With Young To Settle Feud

The police chiefs of the cities of Concord, Pittsburg and Richmond and Sheriff Walter Young have come to a mutual understanding that "if we have any future problems, we will work them out together."

At a luncheon meeting in a Walnut Creek restaurant Wednesday, called hastily by Young, the four men pledged themselves to "strict cooperation."

Deliveries Are Halted By Bay Area Teamsters

The teamsters' strike in San Francisco and the Bay Area has thrown a monkey wrench into the Orinda Union School District's plans for opening of the school year September 19. Superintendent Joseph Sheaff reported yesterday.

Sheaff said the district planned to open its third cafeteria at the Glorietta School when classes start in less than two weeks, but the strike has caused several imperative appliances for the facility to be delayed indefinitely.

THE SUPERINTENDENT indicated he hopes the deliveries will be made so that the cafeteria can be opened the week of September 21.

Only cafeterias in the district at present are located at the Pine Grove and Sweeney Hollow schools.

According to Sheaff, the recently completed Glorietta School additions made space available for the new cafeteria.

OTHER NEW ROOMS at the Glorietta School, also included in the construction just finished, will remain unfurnished—possibly into October—because of the strike's halting of deliveries.

He said other items affected by the delivery delay are school supplies such as paper and pencils, state textbooks and foodstuffs for the other cafeterias, and he added that other school districts in the area may be similarly affected by the teamster walkout.

Meanwhile, Sheaff and his staff continued preparations for the teacher's Orientation Week activities next week.

A MEETING OF Sheaff and the 23 new district teachers will be held Monday, and a three-day institute is scheduled to run through Thursday, the superintendent explained.

Van Tassel Must Appear In Court In San Francisco

Sheriff Walter Young's former campaign manager, Raymond D. Van Tassel of Alamo, has been served with a San Francisco Superior Court order to answer questions put to him by the State Attorney General's office.

The questions will be directed to the possible link between the contribution campaign which elected Young and Contra Costa gambling interests, Assistant Attorney General Clarence Linn said.

HE ADDED, "We are also interested in the lack of adequate law enforcement and the lack of desire to enforce the law."

The new move will make the reconvicting of the grand jury necessary, probably next week, he said.

A-Bomb Monitor Becomes Contra Costa Executive

BY LARRY GLAZIER

Sitting at his desk in the peaceful atmosphere of his Walnut Creek office, Morris R. Jeppson, the young (37) president of the Applied Radiation Corporation, isn't at all concerned with the events of his life 14 years ago.

To him, the bleak events of August 6, 1945, were just part of his job as a second lieutenant in the U.S. Army Air Corps and of his wartime responsibility to the nation.

THE THEN Lieutenant Jeppson, who now lives at 16 Del Mar Court, Orinda, was assigned aboard the B-29 Superfortress Enola Gay to monitor the single atomic bomb which was dropped on Hiroshima, inflicting death on thousands and causing radiation phenomena which still are being studied today.

Jeppson, who was a mature 23 at the time of the Hiroshima bombing, finds the events of the last six years—during which ARCO has flourished as a producer of electron linear accelerators—much more interesting than the job "he had to do."

Brought up in the Nevada capital city of Carson City, Jeppson graduated from high school when he was 17 years old, then went on to the California Institute of Technology (Cal Tech) for one year.

HE RETURNED to the University of Nevada for the next two years of college, where he undertook the still relatively new field of nuclear physics.

In 1942, at the age of 20, he joined the Air Corps, and volunteered for meteorological training, but soon ended up in the radar field and was sent to the Yale University electronics school. It was this schooling at Yale that led to Jeppson's commission as a second lieutenant, and it was followed by seven months of radar schools at Harvard University and the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

AS A RESULT of this further training, five young officers—including Jeppson—were requisitioned from the radar division and reassigned to the now-famous Manhattan Project in the late summer of 1944.

The five were trained as weapons specialists at Wendover Field, Utah, and Los Alamos, New Mexico, handling the development of electronic instrumentation for atomic weapons and the field testing of "dummy" weapons.

Jeppson says the Manhattan Project, devoted to the development of atomic weapons, gave birth to the Atomic Energy Commission, which is devoted to the development of atomic energy for (Continued on Page 2)

Sun 'Want Ads' Win First Place National Award Prize

Newspaper Promotion Award Also Presented by National Unit

When petite Lynne Collier became Sun Classified Department manager recently, she took over what the National Editorial Association has judged the best classified section of all the nation's weeklies.

The judges said at the time of the award, "... it was not too difficult to select the classified winners, those who were standouts in typography, format, layout, copy, preparation, volume."

Sun readers in the central county, including Walnut Creek, Lafayette, Orinda and Pleasant Hill, have known this for years.

CREDIT GOES to Mrs. Jean Scott, who during her years as classified manager, made great strides in developing The Sun into a nationally top rated paper.

She received the plaque which was sought by thousands of newspapers, while Sun Publisher Herman Silverman received a plaque for "merit" in the newspaper promotion category.

The Association Judges also said of The Sun classified: "One of the big things in selecting the winning entries was the fact they were easy to read and easy to use."

"This the judges felt was the primary factor in making successful classified pages and this did eliminate many of the entries which did not place in the contest."

"LACK OF VARIETY in copy, no headings for identification and a general lack of attractiveness to the reader were found in quite a number of entries."

The people of central Contra Costa have been way ahead of the judges, for it is an accepted fact that The Sun classifieds are the most widely read of any local paper in the area.

They go to 38,000 homes in the Sun Shopping News alone, and to thousands more in the Walnut Creek Sun, Lafayette Sun, Pleasant Hill Sun and Orinda Sun.

A single ad for one price automatically goes into all these papers. The 5-in-1 system is unique with The Sun.

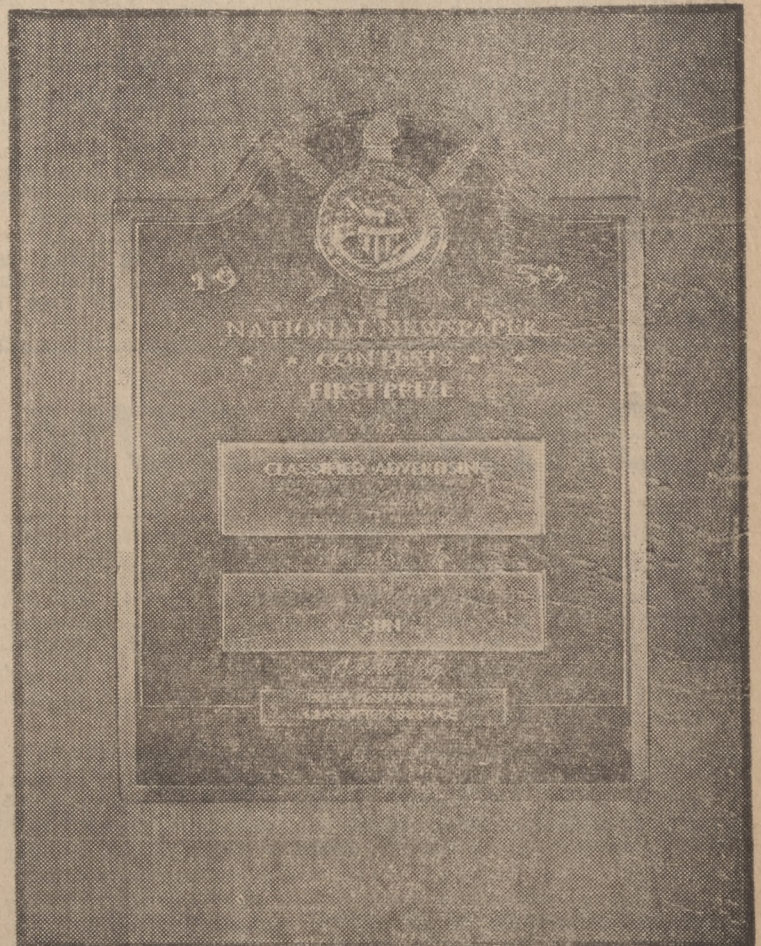

The Sun has also triumphed in other departments.

In 1959 alone, The Sun was judged as being the best weekly newspaper in California, with the best editorial page and best women's interest coverage.

Another award was won for newspaper promotion.

BEST CLASSIFIED Advertising in the country—that's the award that was presented recently to The Sun by the National Editorial Association. Howard Grossman, NEA contest chairman, left, is presenting the award to Dick Miller, assistant general manager of the California Newspaper Publisher's Association who received the award in Colorado Springs for The Sun.

HERE IS THE PLAQUE presented to The Sun for having the best Want Ad section in the nation. Sun classifieds bring faster results than any other ads available. Another top-notch feature of Sun Want Ads is that they appear in five papers for one price.

Burton Area Zoning Discussed

Second Public Hearing On Moraga Area Oct. 6

The second and final public hearing on the proposed zoning for the Moraga Valley area will be held by the county planning commission in the Hall of Records, Martinez, at 8 p.m. October 6.

Planning commissioners set the date after the first hearing was held Tuesday night, with no conclusions drawn and no action taken. The meeting was attended by about 40 Moraga area residents.

BASED ON THE planning department's recommendations in the General Plan for Moraga, adopted last year, the zoning proposal includes a major portion of the Moraga School District and the southeast portion of the Lafayette School District, including the Burton Valley area, St. Mary's, Lafayette Valley Estates, Mt. Mary's College and the Moraga town site.

Properties of the Burton Construction Company and adjacent lands are in the proposed zoning area, which eliminates the Rheem district properties because they were zoned in 1953.

Principal point of discussion Tuesday night was the proposed Burton shopping center, recommendations for which were not included in the adopted general plan.

THE NINE-ACRE SITE, suggested by the Utah firm as the future shopping center, is recommended for zoning as R-10 (residential—10,000 square feet, or about a quarter of an acre).

Planning department staffers indicated they felt there should be a small neighborhood shopping area in Burton, but it was not included in the general plan because in the foreseeable future, it is not feasible to construct the center.

Russell Griffith of the planning department said it was additionally felt that the business zoning for the Burton property should not be set because the land is included within the boundaries of the proposed Town of Lafayette and "the people then can determine what they want the land used for."

THIS WAS PROTESTED by Bestor Robinson, Oakland attorney for the Utah Construction Company, who admitted the shopping center's construction is not feasible in the near future, but argued that the land should be set aside for shopping anyway.

He maintained the Utah firm is the largest landholder in the Moraga area, which has an ultimate population of 50,000 persons, and the company intends to maintain its long term interest in the community.

Robinson reported the firm wishes to cooperate, but retains its architectural controls in order to protect its investment.

IT'S PLAIN GOOD BUSINESS, Robinson charged.

Some questions were raised at the meeting about the 365-foot "buffer strip" included in the general plan between the controlled manufacturing area and Camino Pablo.

Ed Bisari, a Moraga resident, pointed out that the area is now proposed for residential zoning, and he asked what the final outcome will be.

COMMISSIONERS TOOK the matter under advisement, and Planning Director Thomas Heat- on reported the commission's findings will be made public as soon as possible.

The planners also told the citizens that the zoning proposal has no connection with the location of schools, park areas and future street planning.

They indicated park areas are up to the people and that schools and streets can be located in various locations within the limitations on numbers included in the general plan.

Cats Inherit $25,000 From Will of Owner

Two Orinda cats won't have to worry about cream in their saucers for some time to come.

They have inherited about $25,000 in trust fund stock from the estate of Bertha J. M. Hart, 82, who died two weeks ago.

The will provides that the cats be left with the widow's cousin, Marian L. Trahan, a librarian in the Oakland Public Library.

If the cats should die before exhausting their legacy the remainder of the money will be divided between four of Mrs. Hart's cousins.

"I have never had any children and these cats are my family," Mrs. Hart told a friend. "I want to make sure that they are taken care of after my death."

High School Teachers To Confer

Instructors in the Acaalanes High School District will attend a pre-school opening conference, starting with an orientation meeting for 40 newly employed teachers, Wednesday.

A morning meeting of Superintendent Neil M. Parsons and members of the district staff will precede a bus tour of the Acaalanes District area and its four schools, Acaalanes, Del Valle, Las Lomas and Miramonte High Schools.

After a luncheon for new personnel, school principals and the district staff, meetings will be held for the new teachers at their assigned schools.

General teaching staff meetings start Thursday with a morning orientation and "kick-off" for the 1959-60 school year. Featured speaker will be Dr. Tully Knoles, chancellor of the College of the Pacific.

Orindan Attends Banking School

John G. Campbell, 89 Coral Drive, assistant vice president of Crocker-Anglo National Bank's 1 Sansome Street office, is among the eight officers of the bank who are attending the Pacific Coast Banking School this week and next.

The school is being held at the University of Washington, where 300 bankers are being instructed by leading bankers, educators and professional men.

SPONSORED BY THE Bankers Association of eight Western states, the school was established in 1938 to provide advanced training for bank executives.

In order to receive a graduation certificate from the school, it is necessary for a student to attend three annual sessions and prepare a thesis.

Orinda Assn. Opposes Minerinda Rezoning Plan

Directors of the Orinda Association, at their regular monthly meeting Monday night, officially opposed the rezoning of 63 acres in the Minerinda area owned by Lyle Gardiner.

By taking the action, the association indicated its support of an estimated 80 per cent of the residents in the restricted Minerinda tract who protested the rezoning at a hearing scheduled for August 4—one which never came off.

THE DAY BEFORE the scheduled hearing, planning commissioners received a letter from Gardiner's Martinez attorney, asking that the matter be continued for a week.

No notice of the continuance request was given to residents of the area or to members of the association, according to Donald M. Anderson, president of the association.

A large number of Minerinda residents appeared for the hearing, but the matter still was continued and will be heard by the planning commission at 8 p.m. September 15 in the Hall of Records, Martinez.

THE MINERINDA TRACT has a minimum restriction of 40,000 square feet (about an acre) on lot sizes, but the restrictions will run out during 1960.

Gardiner has asked for R-20, or 20,000 square foot, zoning for his 63 acres.

Anderson quoted Gardiner as saying that under the R-40 zoning he can only place 36 homes on the site, without tearing the terrain apart, and a rezoning would permit an additional 50 per cent, or a total of 54 homes.

HE WOULD STILL be less than the average acre site developments, Anderson said he was told by the property owner.

Gardiner reportedly admitted he has not had an engineering survey performed on the property because it is still in the preliminary stages, and he added his tax load at present is very heavy on the property.

Vic Kingston, an association director, pointed out that many residents in the area believe Gardiner would carry out his promise that he will build only 54 homes if the land is rezoned, but they are afraid that he might sell the land to someone else, who could then tear up the terrain and "put a home on every 20,000 square feet."

peaceful uses, and the overall program was "a very good idea."

HE WAS MARRIED to his wife, Marge, in 1944, and recalls that just three days before he was scheduled to fly to Tinian Island in the Marianas in June 1945, he had to take a three-day furlough to take in the birth of his first daughter, Nancy.

The bomber crews set up laboratories and assembly areas on Tinian in June and continued their training and "dummy" bombing missions until the fateful day of the A-bomb attack on Hiroshima. The bombing of Nagasaki followed three days later, and the Japanese surrender was official August 15.

Five men were chosen as the weapons specialists, Jeppson explained, so that "we could be adequately expendable," and he recalls, "Two of us flipped a coin—I don't know whether to see who won or lost—to determine who would fly with the Enola Gay."

ON THE HIROSHIMA flight, Jeppson's only "combat mission," he was not a member of the crew, but was assigned only to determine the heavily instrumented A-bomb was in working condition just before it was dropped.

Jeppson was discharged as a first lieutenant in 1946, and he came to the Bay Area to enter the University of California as an undergraduate and graduate student in nuclear physics. He remained there for three years, working full time all the while in the university's radiation laboratory.

In 1949, Jeppson, by this time the father of two daughters, took a position on the Cal campus with the North American Aviation Company, performing nuclear radiation damage studies in anticipation of construction of a nuclear-powered aircraft.

THE PREMATURELY balding, youthful looking physicist stayed with North American until 1951, at which time he took a position with Cal's Livermore laboratory, which then was beginning its weapons development lab.

During his two-year stay at Livermore, Jeppson became acquainted with three men—Dr. Hayden S. Gordon of 3676 Mosswood Drive, Lafayette; Richard F. Post of 1881 Newell Avenue, Walnut Creek; and David Garbellano, now a rancher in the high

3-Car Accident West of Tunnel Injures 2 Men

A three-car accident just west of the Broadway Low Level Tunnel injured two men Monday and snarled rush hour traffic.

John Cannarso, 23, of 157 State Street, San Francisco, and Lewis Cass, 49, of 3418½ Wren Avenue, Concord, were the injured motorists.

Cannarso had just emerged from the tunnel, westbound, when he crossed the double white line and struck a car driven by Raymond F. Tobey, 40, of 440 El Cerro Avenue, Piedmont. Tobey was not injured.

Cannarso's car then spun around and hit the one driven by Cass, according to police.

MUCH LESS nerve-racking than his military task 14 years ago this month is Morris R. Jeppson's present position as president of Walnut Creek's Applied Radiation Corporation. The father of three children, Jeppson now is a resident of Orinda and heads the ARCO staff of 130 persons, who produce electron linear accelerators for peaceful uses. Jeppson was the special atomic bomb monitor aboard the B-29 Enola Gay which dropped the world's first A-bomb on Hiroshima August 6, 1945.

Teachers to Complete Projects

Two women, both Diablo Valley College instructors, will soon complete unique summer projects.

Mrs. Evelyn B. McCune, Diablo Valley College social sciences instructor and twice winner of Ford Foundation Fellowships for Asian study, will return to Concord this week from the University of Chicago.

Currently studying with Dr. K. A. Nilankanta Sastri and E. C. Dimock, Mrs. McCune is completing her second summer program at the University of Chicago under a Ford Foundation grant.

DR. SASTRI is director of the Institute of Traditional Culture, Madras, and one of India's leading historians. Dimock is an authority on the Vaisnavite Movement in Bengal.

Mrs. McCune, who holds a master's degree from the University of California, is studying toward a doctorate. She is the widow of a University of California professor of Far Eastern history and is herself a student of Oriental culture and history.

For two years she has lectured on Korea at the University and for a longer period taught Far East history in the University of California Extension program. She has two daughters, one a University of California sophomore majoring in psychology, and a married daughter who is a former student of Oriental languages.

MRS. DORIS Thomas, business instructor at Diablo Valley College, will complete a six-week study of data processing problems today with the Bank of America under a fellowship granted by the National Foundation for Economic Education, Inc.

She is the first junior college instructor to have been so honored.

Under a grant from the National Defense Education Act, Mrs. Thomas conducted another study last spring in Business Data Processing for the Contra Costa Junior College District.

As a result of one of the recommendations of the study, Diablo Valley College will institute a data processing course next year to be taught by Mrs. Thomas.

Orindan Will Attend Davis

Mary Ann Wohlers has been admitted for the fall semester at the University of California, Davis. Registrar Howard B. Shontz announced today.

Miss Wohlers is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Claus J. Wohlers of 347 El Toyonal.

A 1959 GRADUATE of Miramonte High School, she has been admitted to the College of Letters and Science and plans to major in biological science.

Registration for the fall semester will take place September 17 and 18.

Italian Tenors Highlight Opera

Two of Italy's most acclaimed young tenors will be heard with the San Francisco Opera for the first time this autumn according to general director Kurt Herbert Adler.

Giuseppe Zambieri makes his American debut in "L'Amore dei Tre Re" on September 17, and also will be heard in "Otello" and "Madama Butterfly." He is a leading tenor with the Vienna Staatsoper and La Scala and has also sung at Salzburg.

Giuseppe Gismondo makes his San Francisco bow in "Madama Butterfly" on September 12 and is later to be heard in "La Boheme."

Giemondo comes to Bay Area audiences direct from Naples' San Carlo where he has just sung a tremendously successful "La Boheme" opposite Renate Tebaldi. His American debut was made in 1958 on the opening night of the New York City Opera's season in "Turandot."

Tickets for the San Francisco Opera season, which opens September 11, are on sale now at Sherman Clay & Company box office and all Bay Area agencies.

Sheriff, Chiefs Pledge to Help One Another

to the three cities without the chiefs' knowledge.
Orin said after the meeting that Young "assured us that he doesn't condone this type of thing, and I am certain it was not done with his knowledge."
The sheriff said he told the chiefs, "We never went into Richmond or Pittsburg with an undercover agent. In Concord, we supplied our undercover agent to another department."

WHEN ASKED if the other department was the district attorney's office, Young had no comment and would only laugh. District Attorney John Nejedly said Thursday, meanwhile, that "he could have been talking about the health department, as far as I'm concerned."

Orin had previously reported that a member of the sheriff's department had employed an undercover agent—an ex-convict—to check on one of two card rooms which were operating past the 2 a.m. curfew in the city limits of Concord.

The Concord chief said he learned of the incident about 10 p.m. last Friday, and when the district attorney's office completed its investigation of the same locale (which was reported to Orin earlier), he went to the establishment and closed it up at 3:35 a.m.

HE INDICATED he told the proprietor that in the past, the 2 a.m. curfew was not enforced, but in the future it would be.

Young said the incident was created by "misunderstandings raised through newspaper publicity (not in The Sun)."

And another official declared, "This whole incident was carried out of proportion by an overzealous newspaper reporter and a member or two of the sheriff's staff."

MEANWHILE, ORIN said it is helpful for law enforcement officials to meet together as they did Wednesday to discuss everything in general about law enforcement, and he added, similar meetings will be held in the future.

Police Chief Leigh Brilliant of Walnut Creek, president of the Chiefs' Association, said he had been informed of Wednesday's luncheon, but was not personally invited and did not attend.

At the regular monthly luncheon meeting of the association Tuesday, the chiefs had the law enforcement committee of the grand jury, chaired by Norman Abramovitch of Martinez, as their guests.

AFTER THE MEETING, the committee released the following brief statement:

"The law enforcement committee met with the association for the purpose of getting acquainted with the members, and the discussion centered around close cooperation between the committee and the chiefs' association and preparation for the annual meeting with the individual chiefs."

Sheriff Blamed for Vice

edge of the sheriff's department, and that no aggressive steps, on the part of the sheriff's personnel, to curb or eliminate known gambling and prostitution, have been made in the last six months preceding the start of the grand jury investigation.

• THAT REPORTS containing strongly supported indications of prostitution activity were submitted to the office of the sheriff and undersheriff with no action taken or followed through by their vice control officer who had been named for this assignment. In fact, the vice control inspector was only one in number and he was strongly opposed to, and would not work at nights or weekends. No arrests for vice in any form whatsoever were made during the tenure of this inspector. Further, the evidence shows that this inspector had a "don't care" attitude towards his responsibilities in law enforcement.

• THAT IN RECENT months outside gambling interests have been attempting to expand their illegal operations within the county, even to the extent of an attempted negotiation of a large sum ($150,000) bribe offer to the district attorney for protection. Evidence as given to the grand jury has resulted in the appropriate and proper steps of action.

• THAT A RESISTANCE, on the part of the sheriff's office, to collaborate with the district attorney's office in matters of handling complaints of vice activities grew to such proportions as to become of serious consequence and a condition untenable with effective law enforcement.

• THAT THE USE of sheriff's personnel in uniform or out of uniform for any work in connection with any illegal operations and/or activity degrades the respect for law enforcement, and, in public mind, promotes the idea of law enforcement's tolerance or even protection to illegal activities.

• THAT THE INCUMBENT sheriff has inherited an organization with serious weaknesses and a probable shortage of personnel. Reorganization planning was under way at the commencement of this investigation, and is being pursued by the sheriff and undersheriff. It is the opinion of this jury that this effort will be materially assisted by outside technical help.

As to recommendations which the grand jury concludes from this investigation, the following are given:

• THAT A COMPLETE understanding and cooperation between the district attorney's office and the sheriff's office be maintained at all times. Without this cooperation effective law enforcement is impossible.

• THAT THE SHERIFF provide adequate and competent vice control officers who shall aggressively take the necessary steps to effectively control all forms of vice. That the sheriff give these illegal activities the attention deserved and provide the special investigators as necessary to secure the evidence required to prosecute violations of the law.

• THAT THE SHERIFF take the proper action to rid his department of the certain law enforcement personnel who have not conscientiously performed their duties as employees of Contra Costa County and as peace officers.

• THAT THE REORGANIZATION of the sheriff's department be made to accomplish the most effective use of personnel to obtain the maximum efficiency and quality of service. It is further recommended that outside special technical assistance be obtained for advice in organizational planning and that the necessary funds for this purpose should be furnished by the board of supervisors.

• THAT APPROPRIATE disciplinary action be taken against any peace officer who participates or gives service to illegal activities and thereby shows or condones an endorsement of such activities.

• THAT IN THE CASES of known and proven instances of gambling in premises which possess a State of California license for the sale of alcoholic liquors, action be referred to the Alcoholic Beverages Control Board for proper punitive measures.

It is unfortunate that this investigation by the grand jury casts unfavorable reflections on the main law enforcement agency of Contra Costa County and personnel, as a group, within that agency. Regrettably, these reflections have fallen upon the loyal and sincere officers of this group as well as the lethargic and unloyal. The people of the county should rest assured that the law enforcement agencies contain many fine and sincere officers deserving a high degree of respect.

Folly of State Young Charges

for the folly of the attorney general's office.

"ADMITTEDLY, the sheriff's office needs reorganizing. This has been held at a standstill because of a lack of personnel and the delayed approval of a sound reorganizational program by the county administration."

"It now appears that these roadblocks have been eliminated. At least, the grand jury investigation has pointed out these problems and hastened a solution."

"I am sorry that the chiefs of police have assumed that this office is in any way interfering with their local law enforcement activities. There is no desire on the part of this office to usurp any of the duties and responsibilities of local agencies. As I have previously announced, this office stands ready to cooperate with all law enforcement agencies to the fullest extent for the best interest of all the people of Contra Costa County."

People More Home-Hungry Says Realtor

The demand for homes has increased more in the last year than for any other major item, Bill Hayward, president of the Contra Costa Real Estate Board, declared today.

He referred to the latest nationwide survey of consumer buying intentions by the University of Michigan Survey Research Center.

"The significant growth indicated by the survey in the number of people who are concentrating their buying plans on homes rather than other durable goods shows that the public is increasingly aware of the importance and value of home ownership," Hayward said.

MORE PEOPLE intend to buy homes in the near future than at any time in the last six years, according to the survey. Long range home buying plans, disclosed in the survey, bolster predictions of an active housing demand throughout the next five years.

Hayward said the 120 realtors of the central county area reported that the situation in this area is similar to the rest of the country, as indicated by the University of Michigan findings.

"There is a strong market in Contra Costa for the good quality homes being sold here," he declared.

Only members of the Contra Costa Real Estate Board and thus of the National Association of Real Estate Boards may use the designation "Realtor" which is registered in the U. S. Patent Office, he added.

"MORE AND MORE young couples are buying a home at the start of their lives together, while many married people are looking for larger homes to accommodate their growing families," he explained.

Hayward pointed out that the national survey showed a growing number of people believe that prices are expected to increase somewhat and are therefore planning to take advantage of the present market to buy now.

He added that recent indications of a survey of the mortgage market by NAREB that interest rates may continue to creep up should be another factor in the decision of families to purchase a home now.

"The long range trend of real estate values has been upward in central Contra Costa and with population growth and other factors, this is expected to continue," Mr. Hayward said.

Information on Veteran Bonus Told by Officer

Additional information on veterans bonuses being paid by other states was passed along to out-of-state former servicemen in this area today by Veterans Service Officer W. R. Smaker, Court House, Martinez.

The State of Louisiana has extended its deadline for filing claims for a Korean Conflict bonus until December 31, 1959.

To qualify, the veteran must have been a resident of Louisiana at the time of entry into military service and he must have served between June 27, 1950, and July 26, 1953.

Louisiana pays $250 bonus for service in the Korean Conflict combat area at any time during the basic period; $100 for overseas service outside the combat area during the basic period; or $50 for 90 days or more of state-side service during the basic period.

Eligible survivors of men who died before December 1, 1955, as the result of service injuries or disease contracted during the basic period may receive a $1000 bonus.

Applications are available from Korean Bonus Division, Room 108, Old State Capitol, Baton Rouge 3, Louisiana.

In Montana, the bonus for veterans serving during World War II who were residents of that state when they entered the service has been reopened and extended until December 31, 1959. This is the second time the Montana Legislature has extended bonus payment.

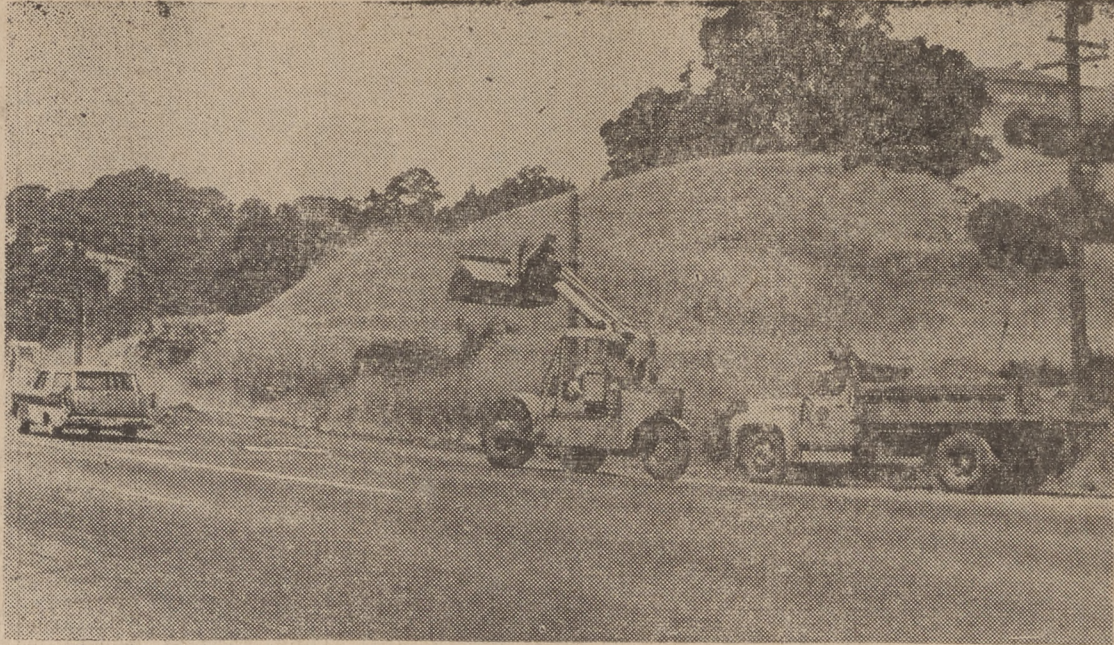

Dates of eligibility are December 7, 1941, through September 2, 1945. Stateside service, $10 for each month or major fraction thereof; foreign service, $15 for each month or major fraction thereof.

Applications are obtainable from the Adjusted Compensation Division, Box 612, Helena, Montana.

Montana is also accepting Korean bonus applications, until July 28, 1961. Dates are June 25, 1950, through October 16, 1953. Eligible survivors receive a minimum of $500. Address Korean Veterans Honorarium, Memorial Building, Helena, Montana.

VOTING BY BLIND

When election time comes around each year in America, a blind citizen does not always know what special laws his state has enacted relative to his exercise of the privilege of voting. In some states the laws are very liberal and the blind person can bring along any assistant of his own choosing; in others the rules are more complicated. In an effort to advise all blind people what assistance they are entitled to at the polling places the American Foundation for the Blind has published a pamphlet listing the rules and regulations for all states. "Election Laws Affecting Blind Persons" can be obtained free upon request from the foundation, 15 West 16th Street, New York City.

Grand Jury's 22 Queries Answered By French Peggy

Lucille Taylor, better known as French Peggy, answered the Contra Costa Grand Jury's 22 questions in a closed hearing Tuesday.

The questions concerned the alleged operation by French Peggy of a house of prostitution on Balfour Road near Brentwood. They also included questions concerning alleged payoffs for police protection.

The former madam was told to answer the questions or face contempt charges by Judge Wakefield Taylor last Friday.

District Attorney John Nejedly informed Mrs. Taylor that she was dismissed from the grand jury hearings following her testimony.

SHOWN LEAVING the closed Grand Jury hearing on Tuesday are C. Terence Ring, French Peggy and James O. Ring. The two men are attorneys who assisted her in answering 22 questions regarding her alleged house of prostitution and the possibility that she bought police protection for it. —Sun photo

Molino Guilty Of Drunk Driving

Henry Molino, 64, of 436 Lakewood Road, Walnut Creek, entered a plea of guilty to a charge of driving while under the influence of intoxicating liquor in Walnut Creek Justice Court August 12.

He was represented by his attorney, George Gordon, of the firm of Carlson, Collins, Gordon and Bold. Judge Betsy Fitzgerald Rahn fined him $281 and gave him a five-day suspended jail sentence.

Molino is the manager of Molino's Midway, a restaurant which has repeatedly been the subject of inquiry in the recent Grand Jury investigation of vice in Contra Costa County.

Originally Molino requested trial by jury in the Walnut Creek court. Following the Grand Jury investigation, a jury was waived, and the original plea of not guilty was withdrawn.

Eager Beavers' Thrift Shop Needs 'Stuff'

Tick - tock. Tick - tock. What makes a thrift shop run?

The Eager Beavers' thrift shop at 3437 Mt. Diablo Blvd. in Lafayette knows the answer.

First and foremost, it is merchandise. The donation of usable things around the house of the average family that for one reason or another is no longer needed.

Anything that is usable is saleable for us. If you are moving or just having the usual fall cleaning, keep in mind the Eager Beavers' thrift shop and bring your things to us.

WE THINK THAT our little shop serves a multiple purpose. It supports the Lafayette Senior Club. It supplies a bargain outlet for those who can use them.

And it gives the people of Lafayette a place to bring their surplus and feel that they are supporting a good community service.

The store is open on Thursdays and Fridays from 10 a.m. till 4 p.m. and on Saturdays from 10 a.m. to noon.

SOME OF THE wonderful women who "man" the shop, faithfully, every month as volunteers are the following: Mmes. Long, Hughes, Spurlock, Soukup, Bowbeer, Wall, Lesure, Jerries, Peoples and Sweeney.

Senior members who served in August: Mmes. Alt, Logan, Hoyt, Eames, Reas, Williams, Elvin, Meisen, Schultz, Casselman and Gilman.

Let us not forget the men either. Messrs. Hodges, Nelson, Neilson and Van Pelt.

IT TAKES merchandise and it takes work. But it is a big satisfaction to those who help us.

Sheriff Issues Answer To Attorney General

Van Tassell said, "I'm being crucified by this ridiculous investigation. There are no contributions which can be traced to gambling elements."

LINN SAID he secured the order because Van Tassell did not appear to answer questions in the earlier hearings, although he had been asked to do so.

Van Tassell said he had been advised by his attorney not to attend, but added he will answer questions now.

Lin said his office has the books of the County Improvement League which was organized to pay Young's $6000 campaign deficit and Young's campaign finance statements filed after his election.

The attorney general's office actions are with the knowledge of District Attorney John Nejedly, Lin emphasized.

Meanwhile, Sheriff Walter Young issued another, more comprehensive public statement yesterday, following up his earlier prepared statement blasting the attorney general's office.

Here is the text of the sheriff's new statement:

"HERE ARE my feelings regarding this entire probe into alleged vice conditions in Contra Costa County:

"I have only been sheriff for a period of seven months. I have made many changes and all of my efforts have been toward providing a top-notch sheriff's department and the best possible service to the citizens of the county."

"I have inherited a department completely demoralized, completely lacking in equipment, hampered by lack of building space, undermanned and not properly trained or disciplined."

"I have accepted what I gained through my own efforts because I have had and still have great faith that we can make the necessary corrections and emerge with the kind of department that Contra Costa County wants."

"I HAVE extended the hand of friendship to all employees. I personally informed them that regardless of what happened in the past I would not hold anything against any member of the staff."

"I only wanted all to bury the ax and work together. Unfortunately, a few could not forget their hatreds and that few have worked night and day in a constant attempt to sabotage my every effort."

"This county is cleaner today as far as vice goes than ever before."

"All of the small attempts at gambling and prostitution are the same attempts that have repeatedly cropped up year in and year out. I have recognized the situation. I have reorganized my department in order that all efforts can continually be exerted against any form of vice or attempts."

"This case was not a case against me. Not one shred of evidence exists that will incriminate me or my department. This case is a case put on against another era, and put on at a time when that era has come to an end."

"The smoker incident at Walnut Creek was most unfortunate. I do not and will not condone such things. Three of my deputies were parking cars there. They have submitted statements that they were not aware what he affair was. They were off duty and stated that they only assisted to earn a few extra dollars. I have no evidence to the contrary. On the other hand, another county official was actively on the committee and, in fact, was the ticket taker at the door that night. He went to the district attorney and informed him of his part. Why are my people being accused, and this person has not even been mentioned?"

"I AND MY whole department have been unjustly tried and smeared through the newspapers. All of the testimony has been presented. If no case exists, I demand a complete clearance for me and my department."

"It should be very apparent to all by this time that several persons within my department are guilty of conspiring to falsely inform, in an attempt to ruin the entire department."

Cornell Outing

All Cornell University alumni, undergraduates, sub-fresh, their spouses and dates are invited to attend the annual outing of the Cornell Club of Northern California to be held at 2 p.m. tomorrow at the home of Paul Handlery, 13 Virginia Drive, Orinda.

"This conspiracy has disrupted a large part of the entire department. The state has been duped into spending thousands of dollars and wasting hundreds of man hours."

"THE PERSONS responsible for this miserable, malicious attack are possibly guilty of a criminal conspiracy (to falsely impart information attempting to indict)."

"They are surely guilty of costing the government a huge sum of money."

"They are guilty of the lowest form of dishonesty and disloyalty. Your final findings should place the blame where it belongs in order that such a situation can be corrected." Thank you, WALTER F. YOUNG.

Quotas for Hospital Are Told

Quotas for the $750,000 building fund drive of John Muir Memorial Hospital, the non-profit, non-sectarian community hospital to be erected on a 10-acre site on Ygnacio Valley Road, were announced by Edmund S. Barnett, campaign chairman.

Twenty per cent of the total goal, or $150,000, is allocated to the Medical - Dental Division, headed by Doctors Frederick M. Hanson of Walnut Creek, Frederick W. Ackerman of Pleasant Hill and Herbert B. Packard of Alamo and Walnut Creek.

About $450,000 is allocated to the Walnut Creek-Pleasant Hill area, $150,000 to the Lafayette area, $112,500 to the Danville-San Ramon Valley area, and $37,500 to the Orinda area.

WALNUT CREEK Business and Commerce Division of firms having less than ten employees is expected to give $45,000 under the chairmanship of Pat Paddock of Smith's Clothiers in Walnut Creek.

Alonso W. "Andy" Anderson, manager of Henry W. Swift Company's Walnut Creek office, is chairman for soliciting firms with over ten employees, also with an overall quota of $45,000.

Clubs and Organizations Division, aiming for endowment of memorial rooms and equipment, is led by Gene Williams of Walnut Creek. His quota is $30,000.

The Industrial Division, headed by Richard K. Humphries of Concord, is working for $67,500, from industries with employees living in the service area of John Muir Memorial Hospital. The new hospital is being equipped for emergency treatment of accident patients, as well as regular hospital admittances.

PUBLIC Employees Division, of which District Attorney John Nejedly is chairman, has a quota of one per cent of the total goal, or $7,500.

The campaign's Membership Division, which begins active solicitation next month after a public kick-off meeting, will be selling Hospital Association voting memberships under direction of Mrs. Frank E. Young of Walnut Creek, with Mrs. Hal Bates of Lafayette as vice chairmen.

Announcement of gift solicitation response in all divisions is to be made at the kick-off meeting for the general membership drive.

Campaign headquarters at 1353 Locust Street, Walnut Creek, is open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. five days a week.

Artists to Use Realtor Building

The Diablo Art Association will hold its future meetings in the assembly room of the Contra Costa Real Estate Board building, 1343 Locust Street.

The first meeting there was Monday, when an art lecture was delivered. Earl Allen was program chairman.

Mrs. Lorraine Myatt, membership chairman, said several new members have recently joined the organization. Among them are Mr. and Mrs. Tom Proctor of Concord, Mrs. Marcia D'Esopo of Walnut Creek, Mrs. Norma George of Danville, and Mrs. Marjorie Belchelder of Lafayette.

Mrs. Robert Hussey, exhibit chairman, has arranged the following one-man exhibits in the local area: Fred Pring, Alamo Medical Center; Ida Nardini, Compton; Jack Galvin, Kaiser Hospital; Vivian Cook, Pillsbury; Brenda Giffin, Village Theater; Rolfe Williams, Pleasant Hill Rest Home.

Ruth Hussey, Pleasant Hill Nut Bowl; Yvon Herbert and Louis Gutierrez, Sears of Walnut Creek; and Doris Whipple, Suburban Carpets Store.

The rental gallery system sponsored by DAA has been temporarily discontinued for reorganization but a new opening date will be announced.

In the meantime, the previous rental gallery locations are now featuring individual shows and the public is invited to view these special exhibits.

Miss Mary Way, president, announced the association's yearly art show will be held in conjunction with the Walnut Festival September 24-27 from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. daily, in the Real Estate Board building. Entry blanks will be mailed out shortly and they may also be obtained at the next general meeting or at the Walnut Creek Chamber of Commerce office.

Ingalls Named To Nomination Group, CREA

Allen E. Ingalls of Bailey & Ingalls, Inc., realtors, will serve on the nominating committee of the California Real Estate Association during its 55th annual convention at the Biltmore Hotel, Los Angeles, October 4-8.

This important committee will nominate the officers of CREA, a president, executive vice president, treasurer, 28 vice presidents, six honorary directors-for-life, and 800 directors.

They will represent the 164 local real estate boards in the 550 communities in California.

Bill Hayward, president of the Contra Costa Real Estate Board, said that an attendance of over 4500 real estate men and women is expected at the Los Angeles convention.

Pear Picking Time is Mighty Busy Time for Contra Costa County

Bartletts, Hardys in Huge Crop

The big trucks have been rolling tons of pears out of the local area the past several weeks. Thousands of boxes of the golden fruit have gone their way—many to the ice houses for storage and others directly to the canneries.

In the past many more tons of the fruit have been grown in the local area but building developments have gradually "eaten into" the crops. Chances are that a few years will find commercial pears but a memory of bygone days.

The only large ranches in the area are the Moraga Land Company and the Bishop Ranch over Danville way. In Ygnacio Valley there are the Burton and Bancroft ranches.

Small growers are few in number.

Many small growers who have a few trees in a family orchard set up colorful roadside stands to display and sell their wares.

The local crop consists of two kinds of pears—Bartlett and Hardys.

The Bartlett come to the ripe stage first with the Hardys being harvested as a rule after the Bartlett crop has been exhausted.

Bartletts are used as canned fruit both as halves and as strained baby food. The fruit is not allowed to ripen on the tree but are picked in a semi-green state with some going to the various ice houses to be held for the making of fruit cocktail. The Hawaiian pineapple comes in later in the year so the pears are held in refrigeration until the proper time for "cocktail canning."

The Hardys, which has a darker meat and different flavor than the Bartlett, is used primarily in fruit cocktail.

Pear trees, when cultivated, sprayed and pruned, are heavy producers for a good number of years. Many of the local trees are 30 to 40 years old.

From all appearances it will be subdivision rather than age which will bring about their end. The fruit is hauled on huge trucks and trailers that carry from 18 to 20 tons of the fruit at a time.

The Bancroft Ranch packs and ships much of the fruit to their eastern market where it is highly prized as a delicacy.

Pickers, for the most part, are migrant workers who go from crop to crop as they come into season.

The canneries pears are picked according to size with the pickers using rings to select the 2 1/2 inch pears.

The smaller pears go into strained foods and the dry driers for dried fruit purposes.

A cannery is located in Walnut Creek and it is a beehive of activity turning out thousands of cans of fruit and juices. They run from pears, apricots, to tomatoes to Florida orange juice which is brought in 45 gallon drums for canning.

Stop Hiring! Is Taxpayer Advice

The County Board of Supervisors has been asked to declare a moratorium on hiring new county personnel until the completion of a proposed study.

E. L. Slagle, chairman of the Public Expenditures Committee, County Taxpayers Association, complimented the supervisors on the anticipated reduction of taxes from $2.29 to $2.28.

But he submitted figures indicating that the percentage increase in additional county employees is considerably in excess of the population increase in the county.

HIS FIGURES showed that the county employee force has increased 980 persons since 1950-51, for a total of 2184.

This is an eight-year increase of 81.4 per cent he said.

However, the county population has increased only 30 per cent, that from 309,000 in 1951 to 402,000 in 1959.

Admitting that the large jump in personnel is due not only to increase in population but to the added services offered by the county, Slagle declared that future growth will be accomplished in the most "orderly manner" by following a plan.

AN OUTSIDE consultant should be hired to "recommence policy and procedure relating to the review and approval of requests for additional personnel..." he said.

The consultant would provide the following:

1. A description and classification manual for use in the fair and uniform approach to compensation. Such a manual would provide a sound basis for reviewing classifications of new or changed positions, and should comprehend a reduction in the total number of salary grades.

2. A procedure for the budgeting of personnel compensation. Such a procedure would include a separation of compensation and contingency budgets.

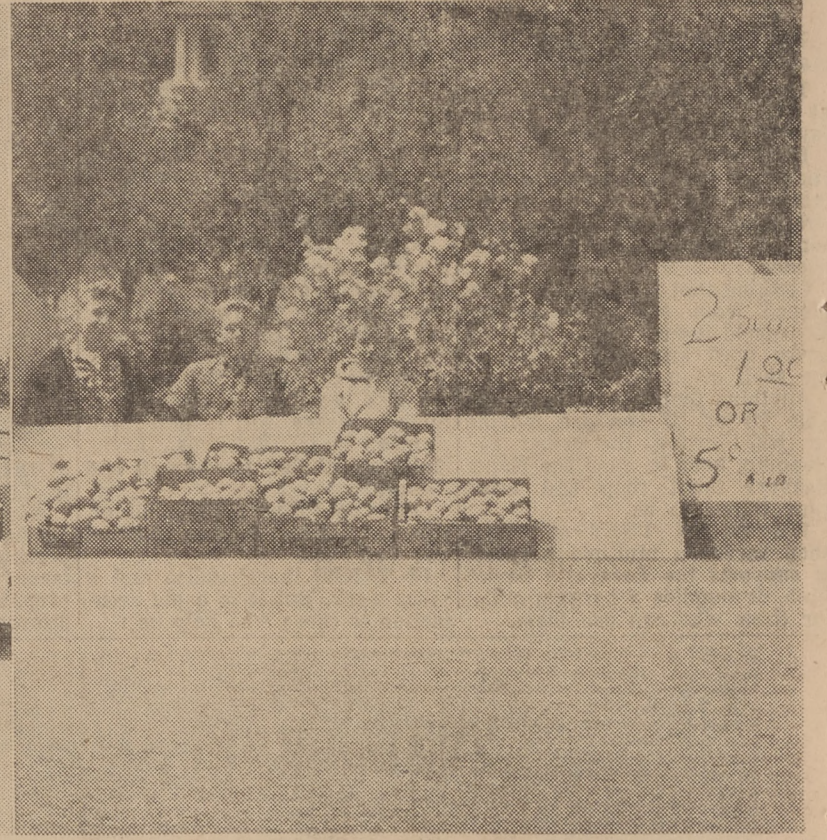

Slagle added, "During this period of study the committee requests your honorable board to declare a moratorium on the hiring of new personnel, except where it can be demonstrated without doubt that failure to hire such personnel would damage the health and welfare of the county."

WHEN THE PEARS ARE READY, hundreds of men, women and children go into action. It's a quick but well planned job, between the picking and arrival at the cannery. Above photos show the inspection of pears fresh from the fields, with separation of the "choice" and not-so-choice, loading onto trucks, and three boys, Rob Schelling and Mike and Pete Smyth, who are running their little stand without a thought for "big business."

Is Re-Assess Program Affecting '59-60 Taxes?

The current re-assessment program in the central county was not completed in time to affect the 1959-60 tax rolls, with the exception of Pleasant Hill.

However, new homes and businesses in this area generally raised the assessed valuation, and contributed to the county's overall $49,420,790 increase in tax base, and the anticipated penny drop in the $2.29 tax rate.

Pleasant Hill has been re-assessed as part of the Mt. Diablo Unified School District, and its raised, lowered and new assessments contribute to a $7 1/2 million "net gain" for the entire district.

WALNUT CREEK re-assessment of homes, buildings, businesses and industry is in its final stages, but it was not in time for the July 1 deadline, when the County Supervisors begin their board of equalization sessions for the benefit of objecting property owners.

Walnut Creek's new assessments will appear on the 1960-61 tax rolls.

"Advance" re-assessment teams have begun work in Lafayette, but it remains to be seen if they can finish up by July 1, next year, in time for the '60-61 tax rolls.

COUNTY Assessor office teams will probably not move into Orinda for more than a year, however.

The timetable and its effect on present and future tax bills was outlined this week by E. F. Wanka, assistant county assessor.

He said, "We were able to finish up the entire Mt. Diablo School District, including Pleasant Hill, in time for this year, and generally we want to finish up the school district containing the community before making the changes effective."

"Otherwise school taxes, which are 60 per cent of the county tax bill, would be levied unevenly in that school district."

HE ADDED, "Concord has been growing tremendously, and the assessment figures show it, but in the Mt. Diablo District where we raised the assessment on 12,500 pieces of property, we also did not raise or else lowered the assessments on 13,000 pieces of property."

A study of the net gain of county assessments, after exemptions (church, schools, etc.) and before state assessed public utilities, reveals interesting comparative figures.

Lafayette with a $1,817,995 gain and a new net total of $28,061,630 is ahead of Walnut Creek in both departments.

Walnut Creek has a gain of $1,266,365, and a total of $17,154,855. THE UTILITIES add some $2,200,000 for Lafayette and $3,200,000 for Walnut Creek.

The corresponding increase in state board assessed values is generally the case is lower percentage-wise—$154,360 for Lafayette and $376,310 for Walnut Creek.

In fact throughout the county there is no ease of an area having a smaller county assessed valuation, but there are nine cases of areas having reduced state board assessments for public utilities, the figures indicate.

Canyon is among them, also Martinez.

ORINDA, principally residential, shows a gain of $1,142,345, and net total of $21,742,070, before utility rolls.

Corresponding figures: Alamo, $568,160 added, for total of $6,800,965; Canyon, $2970 added, for total $188,350; Moraga, $240,210 added for total $2,444,865.

Pencils, Pony Highlight Broadway School Event

Some lucky kid will go back to school in style—on the back of a Shetland pony—as a result of the current Broadway Shopping Center Back to School Celebration.

The pony, Jingle Bells, is to be given away along with a saddle and four months board, by the Broadway Merchants Association, according to George Webster, chairman of the event.

"But," Webster said, "Jingle Bells isn't the only attraction to be featured at our Back to School Celebration. Along with the terrific values at all the stores there are thousands of free pencils to be given away through September 5."

Everyone who wants anything from a pencil to a full back to school wardrobe is welcome at the big celebration, according to Webster.

Jingle Bells is nine years old and has no bad habits. The pony is valued at between $400 and $500, the chairman said.

Gas War Breaks; 'No Relief,' Says Operator

Virtually all of the service stations in the central county area have cut their gasoline prices as the result of a new gas war which has been creeping toward a record for some weeks.

Prices for regular gasoline in the Pleasant Hill and Lafayette areas have dropped to 26.9 cents per gallon.

Operators in Walnut Creek prophesied that prices would drop "at least two more cents" and that this could be the eve of the biggest slash epidemic in recent county history.

SEVEN-YEAR-OLD Danny Isola is keeping his monkey pal, "Zip," close at hand, so he doesn't forget him when the Isola family leaves this afternoon for Chicago. Danny, who has been a "blue baby" since birth, is scheduled to undergo a rare and delicate heart operation at the Children's Memorial Hospital in Chicago Monday. In preparation for the jet plane trip today, Danny, the son of Orinda mailman Larry Isola, has taken "Zip" for several automobile rides so that the monkey won't be frightened when taken aboard the aircraft.

Danny's First Plane Trip Is His Best Hope

Danny Isola will leave San Francisco International Airport today at 2:30 p.m. and the hopes and prayers of thousands of people who have never met him follow.

Waiting for him in Chicago is an operating table and a team of surgeons who may be able to perform a delicate heart operation developed for "blue babies."

Only one doctor, Thomas Baffes of Chicago's Children Memorial Hospital, has acquired the necessary skill to direct the long operation.

But Danny's parents, Larry Isola, an Orinda mailman, and Peggy, will be with him, trying hard to help the seven-year-old enjoy his first airplane ride. The first of many, they hope.

American Airlines officials arranged for Danny to look over yesterday a jet liner of the type he enters today. It was a real thrill.

"Dollars for Danny" which raised $10,000 for the operation and related expenses, is the story of how this all came about. But there were others.

Sheraton Hotel Corporation, owner of the Sheraton-Towers where the parents will stay, has contributed a week's free accommodations.

The first class round trip tickets for the two were given free by the Contra Costa Travel Service of Concord.

And the hundreds of letters and offers of sympathy have helped the Isolas through one of the most difficult periods of their lives.

Missing 6 Tell About Muddy Road

Six Orinda youths, missing for 18 hours after leaving in two cars for Echo Lake, Amador County, will stick to the main roads from now on, they promised their parents Wednesday.

The trouble started after they left Silver Lake and decided to try out some back muddy roads.

When they didn't arrive at their destination, a three-county search began for William Hilger, 17, and his brother, Dean, 15, sons of Dr. and Mrs. David Hilger, 31 Oakland Road, also Charlotte, 15, Peter and Hugh, 12, twins, and George Kimball, 17, children of Dr. and Mrs. H. Stewart Kimball of 19 Owl Hill Road.

The back road turned out to be heavily encased in mud and the cars finally bogged down in the stuff. They had to remain in the cars overnight and walk out the next day, they said.

The coming year will be a very active one for the newcomers. Program Chairman Mrs. James Burchell has set up the program for each month, assisted by Mrs. Jewel Hara and Mrs. Scott.

The Orinda Newcomers Club is strictly a social group. There are active bridge and canasta groups which have continued through the summer.

If you are a newcomer to the Orinda area and are interested in our group you may receive further information by contacting Mrs. John Hallenbeck, membership chairman, at CL 4-3054.

Notes From a Beach Bag

APTOS or Rio Del Mar or whatever you prefer to call it . . . There isn't even a Native down there who can agree where one starts & the other leaves off.

All the same, part of the Monterey Bay & its beautiful seashore & by any other name would swell as sweet, the ocean swells & the social Swells & our children should be pickled in brine at this point for the hours they spent riding the rolling surf.

APTOS . . . Pasadena of the Seashore. A paradise for the Past Sixty-set. A perfect place to get potted, for a Begonia. Or a fuchsia. Or any of the plain plants that bloom to spectacular profusion in this land of semi-fog, semi-sun.

The weather, homogenized, Half Sol, Half Dull, the cool clean air having a salubrious effect on the Older Set, who can Take it! (We've got Pneumonia!)

As in Capitola & other surrounding spree-ports w/free sports, much of the year-round populace comprised of retired people whose Geriatric treatment incl. potting their plants, playing their cribbage, or plying their potpourri wares in a heterogeneous assortment of Antique Shoppes.

The Natives or Real Old Timers & the townspeople look a bit aloof on the summer influx of city families, society Names & young mothers w/noisy moppets who invade the grocery stores (3), the Post Office, the Drug Store & the Barber Shop. The Aptosonians talk about Rio Del Mar (it's pre-war real estate boom, it's posh beach, it's Bad Publicity caused by a murder) but there is Nobody at Rio Del Mar apt to talk about Aptos (since Rio Del Mar is the Beachfront OF Aptos) except the Clams & of course, they Shut Up Tight!

Town of Aptos, sleepy old hamlet . . . The stores shut up shop punctiliously at 6 except for the Wknd, when they lock up at 7. All except the Liquor Stores, which stay open for obvious reasons. EVERYBODY has a lot of Houseguests.

By the Beautiful Sea

Stumbling over the kiddies, the kelp & the canvas windbreaks, we established our Beachhead at Rio Del Mar, Ooops, we mean Aptos . . . Here, the pretty pastel houses, like a miniature Marina, brightening the beach front, THEIR facades posh, proud & patriotic, most of them w/tall flag poles & the red, white & blue of Old Glory flapping in a breeze.

The Ed Dougery's house sitting pretty w/its second story addition — The Don Parle Whites, Woodburn Lambs & Paul Slattery among those dispensing hospitality & guest towels to a host of seafarers . . . Hal & Sib O'Flaherty down to lease a house for Eastern friends.

IN THE SANDS close to the edge of the water, a handsome bevy of young boys mix & mold magnificent castles & forts that rise up tall (if you have the right touch, like something made out of dark wet whipped cream).

The wail & cry of a kiddie whose castle comes tumbling down as the tide roars in . . . The horizon blackened as far as the eye can see by the gulls swarming by the millions to a supper of a School of Sardines. The birds dropping straight down like jet helicopters to make their catch in the whitecaps.

THE BEACHCOMBERS & the Beach Roamers, an assorted lot of happy people — "Hiya Judge" & "Hiya Doc" & "How about that Bridge game tonight?" The "Down for the Dayers" hard to tell from the "Down for the Summer-ites."

Along w/the other strolling Regulars, a twosome of Grand Dames in their skirted swimsuits taking their daily saunter in the sands and looking just like a pair of Pouter Pigeons.

THE DAILY RIDE home, the wagon weighted down w/water-logged kids, soggy towels, surfboards, & sandy mothers . . . A Wave & Hello to the Charles Mathewses (he's Orinda Country Club Mgr.) whom we bumped into several times.

Localite Leona Wilson hailing us on the beach one Sunday, later at the Aptos Golf Club where following the Fathers after 4, the Teenage boys in our bunch were apt to get in 18 holes before dark at a teenage rate.

COMPANY COMING . . . Millie Winfree & her 3 sons coming up from their summer cottage at Seabright to join us for dinner one eve . . . SHE bearing a Beautiful Gift — a huge basket of Mushrooms, fresh from Shady Oak Farms where "seconds" as big & perfect as THAT can be had for sixty cents per pound.

The Griddle in the middle of the kitchen last Sunday Morning was a busy pace. Behind the batter bowl, an expert at such things. (not US this time) but guest Tony Olano, Exec. Chef of SF Int'l Airport, which via its various vittle dispensaries (incl. Pancake Palace, so grande!) does MORE volume business per day than any restaurant in Calif.

But before this Beach Bag signs off from Aptos, maybe one of YOU can oblige . . . Just how does one go about opening a Clam Shell gracefully? Without prying, without Clorox, without leaving it around to further the fragrance unnecessarily, wouldja know? It is not Clam Season but one beautiful Pismo Clam, the shape & shade, if & when open of a butterfly, just crashed against us in the deep. Unlike its finder, it has clammed up completely. Shut up! Who me? OKAY!!!!

Note on a sign in the Middle of Nowhere: "Babies — $1.00 a Bunch!"

Just About That Time Again!

GOT YOUR CALENDAR OUT? It's just about That Time again. (Oh, Darn!)

Mayten members will add a little Corn to their country affair this year. As a benefit for Children's Hospital, their invitations to the "BUCOLIC FROLIC" picture a little brown jug for the Moonshine Hour of 6:30 on Sat., Sept 12 at the Lafayette Vets Hall . . . Come & Get It Vittles will be available from 7:30 — 1:00 p.m. & Dancin' to the Debonair Dudes will just about do you in but that's what you'll pay your 5 bucks for. Per couple, that is.

On the same night (Oh, here we go again!) Pandora Chapter of Children's Home Society have invited their guests to Follow The Trail to their annual cocktail party. The Wild & Woolly West will pervade in the "Last Chance Saloon" at Wildwood Acres, the Lucases new resort spot on Lafayette way. Added attraction this year, a Barbecued Steak Dinner (optional, for which reservations & dinner money ($3.50) must be in by Sept. 2nd.

The following Sat. nite at Orinda Club, the Lombardy Barbecue Dinner Dance. This year's theme, acedg. to Bobbie Maguire, "An Arabian Night." This annual affair an Orinda tradition & always well-attended! No veils, please! Awwwwwright! Wear it! Lastnight (you're too late, as were we!) the League of Women Voters presented the award-winning TV film, "Face of Red China" at the WC Methodist Church. Arrangements were made for this by Sally Booth, the Diablo Valley League's foreign policy chairman.

NEWCOMERS to the area may be interested in obtaining League info from Betty Karplus at CL 4-5570. If you can't attend meetings, just getting the group's letters & literature is worth the annual dues.

MEMBERS OF the Orinda Chamber of Commerce and county officials have been receiving favorable comments concerning this new traffic alignment at the Bryant Way Circle near the Crossroads. The county recently installed the "Keep Right" signs, keeping traffic moving in one direction. Autos going into the crossroads from the Oakland side now must travel between the circle and the theater, and are no longer permitted to travel south between the circle and the Ground Cow. The county will continue to maintain and water Bryant Way until next February, the chamber reported.

Clown Parade Plans Told By Foster Children Unit

Clown Parade, a dance, is to be given by Junior Alliance of Children's Foster Care Services September 26 at Diablo Country Club. Mrs. Frank R. Rojeski is chairman of the event which aids Lincoln Home for Children, and assisting her is Mrs. Charles A. Coleman.

Clowns will dominate the scene, according to Mrs. John D. Negley, who is responsible for decor in the ballroom.

Posters of tall, fat, short, thin, and even svelte clowns will gaze down from the walls and pillars, providing a proper assortment to appeal to each and every dancer.

Under Mrs. Ralph Pringle's direction, clown figures are planned for center-pieces on the table. Her committee has worked on two clowns which stand a fantastic 10 feet tall and will flank the bandstand.

Assisting Mrs. Pringle are Mrs. Charles M. Andres, and Mrs. Raymond R. Righetti, of Orinda and Lafayette respectively, and from Oakland the Mesdames Alen L. Bingham, John B. Jacob, Harold R. Jordan, Walter T. Lake, and Howard E. Milliken. Also on this committee is Mrs. Richard D. Olney of Piedmont.

Mrs. Forrest E. Tregea of Piedmont has charge of tickets, and reservations may be made

Marilyn Mason Betrothal Told

An early fall wedding is planned by Marilyn Mason and Carl Andrew Ross, Jr., whose engagement was announced last Saturday at a cocktail party at the home of Marilyn's sister, Mrs. Raymond L. Smith, 126 Lombardy Lane, Orinda.

Marilyn is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Gove Mason, who recently moved from Piedmont to their new home on Tarry Lane, Orinda.

Her fiancé, who lives in Oakland, is the son of Mrs. Carl Andrew Ross of San Francisco and the late Mr. Ross.

The future bride was graduated from the University of California, where she was affiliated with the Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority.

New Organist For Church

The appointment of Philip N. Treggor, director of choral music at the San Francisco Conservatory of Music, as choir-master and organist at St. Stephen's Episcopal Church, Orinda, was announced this week.

Treggor, who is a recent arrival in the Bay Area, was formerly assistant professor of music at the University of Connecticut, Hartford, Conn., and has had extensive training and experience as a choral director and voice teacher.

HIS CHOIRS and choruses have sung concerts with many of the large eastern symphony orchestras and he has appeared as a bass-baritone soloist with the New York Philharmonic and the Boston Symphony Orchestra.

He is to sing a major role in the forthcoming San Francisco Conservatory production of the Benjamin Britten opera, "Peter Grimes."

The Treggor family, which includes his wife, Frances, a son, Joseph, 17, and a daughter, Judith, 9, decided to come west after visiting the Bay Area on vacation last summer. A second daughter, Cynthia, 17, is in New York, where she will enter the Manhattan School of Music on a full scholarship in the violin this fall.

Approximately 16,000 dairy farms in California are equipped with milking machines.

Zorro, Robin Hood of West Is California Fair Star

"Zorro," television's Robin Hood with a Spanish accent, will bring his guitar, dueling swords, black cape, and mask to the California State Fair on opening day, September 2, to entertain the kids.

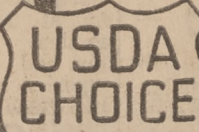

By arrangement with Walt Disney Studios, State Fair Manager Dudley T. Fortin lined up the popular weekly TV star after long negotiations. Zorro is in demand in many places at the same time. Fortin pointed out, and the State Fair considers his appearance a highlight of the opening day's activities of the 12-day exposition. Zorro will perform at 4 p.m. on the special platform erected in front of the Counties Building on the plaza. He will bring some of his co-stars in the television show and will put on an exhibition of dueling as well as other stunts.

In real life Zorro is Guy Williams, a six-foot, three-inch actor. He has stepped into the role made famous in motion pictures by the late Douglas Fairbanks, the one-time idol of boys who now have sons watching Zorro on the home screens. Williams is an expert fencer—which makes the Zorro's dueling come easy. Almost a prototype of Zorro, Williams is a singer, a guitar player, expert with swords, champion at chess, horseman, popular with the ladies, an educated gentleman and good at almost anything he tries. Zorro will be available one day only at the State Fair which runs for 12 days. Children under 16 will be admitted free on opening day.

United States automotive factories turned out a total of 4,170,347 vehicles during the period from January 1 through July 11, 1959.

WINNER OF the bantamweight title in the National AAU deadlifting competition at Berkeley last Saturday was John Bruneau, 3346 Sweet Drive, Lafayette, who lifted 385 pounds in the first national competition of this type ever held. Bruneau, who moved to Lafayette from Dunsmuir a year ago, is shown as he lifted 375 pounds from a deadlift recently.

Weightlifting Title Is Won By Lafayette Resident, 50

A Lafayette man, John Bruneau, of 3346 Sweet Drive, won the National AAU's first deadlift weightlifting championship in the 123-pound (bantamweight) class at the Berkeley YMCA last Saturday.

Bruneau's lift of 385 pounds bested Harvey Fragoza of Oakland with a 380, Terry Johnson of San Rafael with a 330 and Ronnie Marlin of Modesto, who had a 250-pound lift, in the lightest class.

THE LAFAYETTE resident's lift also topped the second place winner in the 132-pound class, Dick Marlin of Modesto, who deadlifted 365 pounds.

A dispatcher for the Southern Pacific Railroad's Oakland division, Bruneau has been lifting weights since 1930, and he and his family moved to Lafayette a little more than a year ago when he was transferred from the railroad's Dunsmuir office.

The AAU is just beginning to post deadlift records this year, and Bruneau said he is pleased that he won the title with the 385 pounds—he stated he has lifted as much as 400 pounds from a deadlift—because it gives him the opportunity to break his own record next time around.

THIS WAS THE first deadlift and first national title Bruneau has ever won, but he has many previous trophies in his home.

For example, he won the Northern California bantamweight crown in 1953, second place in the Pacific Coast competition at Seattle in 1956 and a first place in Sacramento in 1952.

He also put on a weightlifting exhibition during Dunsmuir's Railroad Days celebration in 1956, and he may be featured in Strength and Health magazine during the next few months.

SMALL IN APPEARANCE, the 50-year-old Bruneau said he was also small in stature in 1930, when he took to lifting weights to "build myself up." Recently, he lifted 735 pounds from a partial squat.

Bruneau stated that he played it safe during Saturday's competition because he "just wanted to win." His first lift was 345 pounds and the second was 365 pounds, before his winning 385.

Although most of his previous awards have been in the presses, Bruneau reported he favors deadlifts and squats.

Lafayette Man Faces Charge In Strike Violence

Lincoln E. Beck, 46, of 909 Reliez Station Road, Lafayette, was one of two men arrested on charges of disturbing the peace as the result of a bitter clash between members of two unions at the Fibreboard Paper Products Pabco plant in Emeryville last Friday.

Beck and the second defendant, Merle A. Perrin, 49, of Oakland, who police said are members of Eastbay Machinists Local 1304, will be arraigned Monday in Oakland. They are free on bail.

EMERYVILLE POLICE reported that cars were smashed and stones were thrown during the clash between Local 1304 and San Francisco Carpenters' Local 102, which flared from the unions' jurisdictional dispute.

Two non-picketing workmen, trying to enter the plant, were struck on the head by stones, but their injuries were not serious enough to require hospitalization, officers stated.

Firemen from Emeryville were called to free four millwrights from the San Francisco union, who were pinned in an automobile which had been rolled over by the machinists.

OFFICERS ALSO reported that another car was smashed head-on by members of the picketing machinists' union, and windshields in other vehicles were broken by bricks and lumber hurled by the machinists. Troubles erupted when a car-van of seven autos, loaded with block the cars with parking bar-the millwrights, entered the block ricades, then 35 of them stormed where the plant is located. The vehicles, with bricks, pieces machinist-pickets first tried to of lumber and paint.

If your aim is for...

There are several Osmundsen Homes now being built that can be completed to your specifications.

Even when buying an Osmundsen Home that is well on its way toward completion . . . there is no need to settle for anything less than exactly what you want!

Unlike the ordinary "Ready-Built" home, the partially-completed Osmundsen Home will be finished entirely to your specifications. And—contrary to common belief—the home finished to your specifications in the Osmundsen way usually costs no more than the "Ready-Built" home!

Now is the time to see how much fun it is to have an existing, partially-completed Osmundsen Home finished the way you really want it!

Another Hospital... Let's Talk About Financing...

We need another hospital in Central Contra Costa County.

Fortunately, we are going to have one. It has been named John Muir Memorial Hospital, and plans call for construction to start this fall.

If you have not already been contacted regarding a contribution toward the financing of this hospital, you will be in the near future.

What then, are the facts behind this. Is it a good idea? Is this the best way to finance a hospital? Should you contribute?

We think the answers to these questions are Yes, and here is why.

There are essentially two ways to finance a hospital. One is through private means, as in the present case, and the other is through the formation of a hospital district.

OUR AREA ABOUNDS in hospital districts. Concord has one. So does Martinez. So does Pittsburg.

There is one advantage to the formation of a district to finance a hospital. Everybody pays and the hospital... probably a pretty big one... gets built, and it gets built right now.

But also, it is then a governmental agency. And you know how bureaucratic agencies can get!

And once that district is formed and the hospital is built, well, you're in it, that's all! You lose a good deal of efficiency when you operate through a governmental agency rather than through a private firm... this is general knowledge.

AND MOST governmental agencies run in the red. So what happens, the tax rate goes up, or keeps at the same level for year after year, and you keep on paying.

Such hospital districts have the power to tax substantially, and they usually do. It would be a fine thing if we could establish such a district for the sole purpose of building the hospital, then turn it over to private parties for maintenance and operation, but this can't be done.

So you are faced with the choice of forming a district and paying forever—but with everybody paying—or contributing what you feel that you can afford and being done with it.

Fortunately, private hospitals have to be self supporting. This leads to efficiency of operation, and a hospital is an expensive institution to maintain under the best of circumstances.

SO YOU CAN TAKE your choice. Mortgage yourself for a long term run, or pay now. Actually, there is no choice because this hospital has been established on a private contribution basis.

It will be open to all, and will provide badly needed facilities. There is no question about that. Doctors in existing hospitals in the area are welcoming this project, because they are aware of the need for additional beds.

Those who are planning the financing of the hospital assure us that $750,000 now will save $1½ million dollars later, and this seems like a good investment.

At any rate, the hospital will be built, and as long as we are going to have it, we may as well get it as reasonably as possible.

Consider the need. Consider where you would go if you were in need of hospitalization tomorrow. Consider the availability of facilities in Central Contra Costa County.

And then make your contribution. It seems like a wise investment.

It Came in the Mail, Mom And It's Real Smut

We all know the story about French Postcards.

We also know that they aren't mailed around in the United States, because we have postal laws against that sort of thing.

Or are they? Or maybe, what's worse, their equivalent is being mailed every day, to thousands of children across the country.

There is no question but that the amount of mailed obscenity is growing, and the Postmaster General has become pretty concerned about the matter.

SO CONCERNED, in fact, that he has called on civic groups and parents' organizations all over the country to combat this menace.

Our area abounds with active PTA groups and parents' clubs. These organizations have, in the past, done exceedingly worth while things. They have furthered the lot of our children immensely.

Recently some of these groups have become active in the anti-obscenity movement, and they can be immensely effective here, too.

The next time you attend a meeting of your parents' club or PTA, you might check on the action your group is taking along these lines. And here are some hints from the Postmaster General.

Alert parents are the most important source for direct action against mail order "merchants of filth."

THE MINOR CHILD need not have indicated any interest in the material to receive solicitations through the mail to purchase obscene literature and photographs. It is the responsibility of the parents to take action when such material comes into the hands of their children through the mails.

Remember: the postal service must honor the privacy of first-class mail. It cannot be opened by the post office, even if it is certain that the envelope contains obscene material. The post office can act only if parents supply evidence after the mail has been delivered.

Parents can join with other parents, teachers, local law enforcement officers and civic groups in drawing public attention to the menace of this traffic in filth, forming plans to combat it locally. Work closely with teachers in your community to detect obscene materials in the possession of children and determine the origin of such material.

And perhaps, wisest of all, parents can cooperate with the schools in taking positive, long-range steps to help their children develop wholesome interests in good literature and art, making it readily available to them at home, in the classroom and through organized groups. So you see, there is something you can do.

anyone driving a horseless carriage along the road at night should come to a stop every mile and send up a signal rocket, then wait ten minutes for the road to clear. If a team of horses should approach along the road, the motorist was obliged to pull off the road and cover his vehicle with a large canvas or painted cloth that would blend with the surrounding landscape.

If the horses refused to pass even then, the motorist had to take his vehicle apart piece by piece and hide the pieces under the nearest bush.

THE CITY FATHERS got around to having their little way, too. In Connecticut back in 1901 they passed the first speed law in the United States, setting it down in the book that no driver should drive faster than 12 miles per hour in the city or faster than 15 miles per hour in the country. In Cleveland, Ohio, they passed a law against driving your car while you had someone on your lap.

Out in Green Bay, Wisconsin, they got the idea that oil dropped from cars would damage their pavements, so they set a fine of five dollars on every drop of oil. In Memphis, Tennessee, they made it unlawful for any motorist to drive while he was asleep, and out in Utah they wrote it down in their books of law that birds always have the right of way.

And then, of course, there was the enigmatic sheriff who posted the sign that read: "The speed limit is a secret this year. Motorists breaking it will be fined ten dollars."

This was the law and the horseless carriage

No Chance for Alliance With New Home Appliance

By MARIE MONAHAN

We are home from vacation and the hum of a new washing machine sings in our kitchen.

UNACUSTOMED as we are to the sound of its cycles, we keep a safe distance away.

It has a peculiar little clicking noise. Peculiar, we guess, to new washers.

At times, we think someone has put a time bomb in our house. THE OLD MACHINE changed its cycles with a different noise altogether.

A churning thump. Not to mention a heavy clunk. That is why we don't have it anymore.

IT CHURNED once too often. Clunked its last clank. The shiny new laundry machine was installed while we were away.

Kitchen appliances have come a long way since the day of the wringer-machine of our childhood.

Before that, the big copper boiler gave out with its clean smell of Fels-Naptha shavings from the kitchen stove and there wasn't a cleaner smell than that!

THE DASHBOARD of our new washing wonder lights up like a Las Vegas pinball machine.

When we turn it on, we think we've hit the jackpot for all the excitement it stirs up. Lights blink on and off.

OUR young houseguest, whose Dad is with PanAm, says that it looks like the panel of a jet plane.

It is just about as complicated. THERE is a different color and letter for everything. For someone like us, it is utterly confusing and kind of overwhelming.

The other washer, tired true friend of many years, was simplicity itself.

There was one little knob to push and that was IT! Here, we have to decide between button or dial. Also which type of ten kinds of wash it is.

Furthermore, we must line up the type of wash with the color spaces. These are coral, pink, turquoise, blue, green and yellow.

Who wants to make decisions like THAT at 8 o'clock in the morning when the wash just needs to be washed?

THE COLOR EXPERTS have probably worked this one over for a long time.

We agree the machine is very pretty. But it reminds us too much of these complex IBM things.

In the "Instructions" booklet is says—"Check to make sure WELL, we're defeated before we start!

No fuses are blown."

We would not know the first thing about checking for blown fuses. We honestly admit we don't even understand what a fuse is.

There are so many "Don'ts" to digest we're tempted to send everything out to the laundry.

It would be easier that way.

No fuses to blow. No Big Decisions to make!

Letters to The Editor

EDITORIAL

(Editor's Note: The following is a reprint of an editorial in the Brentwood News, published by Gentry W. Durham and written by him.)

THERE ARE in the county, ranging from top officialdom down to the citizen on the street corner, those who express regret about the current inquiry of vice conditions because, "it gives us a bad name."

They feel it is "bad publicity" to let the world know that there are vice conditions in the county and that something is being done to correct them. They seem to think it would be better if these things were hush-hushed or replaced with "good publicity" such as how fast the county is growing, what attractions it offers industry, etc.

Perhaps this is nothing more than a conditioned reaction to years of exposure to press agency which follows the premise that anything which serves one's immediate best interests is "good publicity" while anything that doesn't serve those interests is "bad publicity" regardless of the basic truth or other values of the situation.

BUT THERE also is the strong possibility that this attitude represents a pattern in modern evaluation of life—a sort of double-standard pattern in which giving lip service and keeping up appearances of uprightness is all that's necessary and that no one really has to bother with the hard work of staying upright. This pattern is based on some metaphysical theory that an open and overflowing cesspool will neither stink nor spread contamination if those around it ignore its existence.

This type of reasoning can use to live with the odor and not understand those who refuse to live with the odor and contamination and try to do something about it. In a compromising world such people are looked upon with suspicion—why should anyone work so hard unless there is something in it, and if so, what is it?

It is becoming increasingly difficult to find understanding for those who believe strongly and are willing to stand by that belief and fight for it. It is not a question of agreeing with how they believe but merely understanding why they believe and why they refuse to compromise.

In regard to the current situation there are many who think they can live with vice conditions—"this isn't so bad, you should have seen it when I was a kid" and "they weren't causing any trouble" and not dirty themselves in any way.

REGARDLESS of the intangible moral factors involved and regardless of the obvious affront to the written law, past experience proves that this cannot be done.

The political and law enforcement history of the nation is filled with stories of cities and areas that thought they could live with vice, a sort of peaceful co-existence. Every one of them started much the same way the situation was starting in Contra Costa county and all eventually concluded with violence and degradation that reached and affected everyone in the area either economically, socially or direct personal contact.

There are those who say they cannot afford to become involved in public fights against such conditions, or public controversies of any kind because there are others who feel differently and who will take their business elsewhere.

Communities which have tried to live with vice have found that soon vice is the only business they have left—so who can't afford to take sides? —G. W. D.

CASTOR BEANS

Dear Editor:

I am writing in hopes that you can help with this Castor Bean plant situation. As we all know they are very harmful to children and we want you to help by putting a little write-up in The Sun, if possible.

Two of the children around our neighborhood have been brought to the hospital and maybe if you were to write something about it the people might chop down their plant in order to save children from eating them.

Why Wasn't the Sheriff Indicted? What Is Next?

By HERMAN SILVERMAN

Before you read further, may I ask if you have read on page 1 the grand jury's report on vice conditions in Contra Costa County. If you've done so already, let's continue.

Even as late as Tuesday, observers expected a possible whitewash or down-playing of the investigation. Many things pointed that way—actions and statements of District Attorney John Nejedly; lack of cooperation by Sheriff Walter Young; mis-handling of the investigation by the California Attorney General's Office; premature revelation of the investigation; pressure to silence the inquiry because it "hurts the reputation of the county;" introduction of irrelevant side issues; and lack of cooperation between investigating offices.

Last week Sun editors thought that the investigation would probably collapse without significant action. That is why the major questions, on the vital issues were printed in large type in an editorial across the top of page 1. This was unorthodox but we believed it was important to spotlight the issues. (And most of these questions have not been publicly answered—nor will they be).

We knew that the current grand jury was very new. We did not know what to expect from them.

Then—it happened

But late last Tuesday afternoon we found out that the grand jury had a mind of its own. Having read the jury's report on page 1, you know this grand jury squarely places the blame for vice and gambling on Sheriff Young and his department. The jury certainly didn't mince words. Look at this:

"... gambling and prostitution have been existent within Contra Costa County with the FULL knowledge of the sheriff's department and that no aggressive steps on the part of the sheriff's personnel, to curb or eliminate known gambling and prostitution, have been made in the last six months preceding the start of the Grand Jury investigation."

Who is behind what?

The jury's statement should convince Mr. Doubter that the investigation was not a "tempest in a teapot." There has been no question in my mind that "someone" was trying to "open" the county. In fact, definite steps were taken to start organized vice. It is interesting to speculate who was involved.

Evidence points to at least two movements to organizing the county.

I believe the grand jury has facts to prove that an amateur, small-time attempt was made and that some "pay offs" or "contributions" were made in January.

A second but major attempt to set up big-time gambling and vice is obvious from the $150,000 bribe offer to Nejedly. Remember, the jury last week indicted Charles Cooper for attempted bribery. Who was behind Cooper? He is a small-fry union official and certainly was fronting for big wheels.

More evidence

The jury reports "that in recent months outside gambling interests have been attempting to expand their illegal operations within the county."

Corroborating this statement is Richmond Chief of Police Charles Brown who said Tuesday:

"Big time racketeers are attempting to move into Contra Costa County and the current investigation by Nejedly and the grand jury deserves the support of each and every citizen... This operation is bigger than most of us expect. We can't afford to ignore the implication of the developments that have been brought before the grand jury."

Why not more action?

Carefully reading the jury's report, you might ask, why didn't they do more than report and make recommendations? Why didn't they indict the sheriff or take steps to remove him from office? Both are within the jury's powers.

I don't know the answer but suggest that the jury did not believe that such action was warranted. Apparently in their opinion, the evidence did not justify such action. They perhaps took into account that Young has held office for only eight months, even though law enforcement deteriorated during this time. The jury noted that the "sheriff has inherited an organization with serious weaknesses and a probable shortage of personnel."

Note that past sheriffs have shouted "lack of personnel" to justify lack of enforcement. This week the county added nine men to the sheriff's staff. But regardless of how many men he has, they must be used efficiently.

Who should be punished?

The grand jury did not specifically list the names of people in the sheriff's department whose heads should roll or should be disciplined. They could have. The jury, however, made strong recommendations and is in a good position to see they are acted upon.

For example: "... the sheriff (should) provide adequate and competent vice control officers who shall aggressively take the necessary steps to effectively control all forms of vice. That the sheriff give these illegal activities the attention deserved..."

This doesn't mean what the sheriff did several weeks ago in his "reorganization." He put two unqualified men in the vice detail. He kept them in uniform, put them in marked sheriff's cars—and expected them to do a job. Obviously these men in uniform could not do a job—and they even said so themselves.

The jury recommends "that the sheriff take the proper action to rid his department of the certain law enforcement personnel who have not conscientiously performed their duties..."

Bucking civil service

This is a real problem. All county employees are civil service. It is a tough job to oust them or even discipline them—unless the sheriff, supervisors, personnel officials and commission and the grand jury are willing to fight. We'll see if they have the courage.

Sheriff Young has already answered the grand jury. The sheriff is blaming everyone but himself.

Sheriff Young's term continues for three and one-half years. He will then decide whether to run for reelection.

I sincerely hope that the sheriff, aided by his undersheriff Harry Ramsay, will now devote all their efforts to solving the problems outlined by the grand jury.

I am sure that DA Nejedly will continue to work for the very best interest of the county.

The citizens of Contra Costa County have every right to expect—and demand—good law enforcement. We are now looking to Sheriff Young for appropriate action in his department.

Got the Rockets, Father?

By DICK OSBORN

Well, you slaves, it's my turn to laugh! Ha Ha! So there!

As you read this, I'm eating trout (I hope) that I've caught (I hope) with some friends in the High Sierra.

Thought I might leave you with a couple of humorous comments that I found in a lovely little note from the National Automobile Club, however.

You know, when you take off for a vacation, you have to drive to get there. This involves using an automobile, naturally, and you run into some pretty funny situations when you get out of the home territory.

(Home territory is defined as that area where you know all the policemen by their first names, and the location of their favorite billboards).

ANYWAY, HERE are some of the situations I DIDN'T run across, thank goodness. Some of you may have instances to add to this, and if you do, drop me a line at The Sun. We'd like to hear from you.

Ever since the first horseless carriage started sputtering and roaring its way along our streets and highways back before the turn of the century, everyone from the embattled farmer to the indignant city father has been doing his damndest to write some laws that would curb the newfangled monster.

Perhaps the wildest of these laws, according to the National Automobile Club, were drawn up by the Anti-Automobile Society that was formed back in Pennsylvania when the problem was first coming to the fore.

THERE THE FARMERS decided that

Mayten Branch Schedules 'Bucolic Frolic' Sept. 12

Mayten Branch of Children's Hospital of the East Bay's talented member Mrs. Herbert E. Goranson has her committee busy designing and making decor for the branch's big fall country style dinner dance appropriately named Bucolic Frolic.

These committee members are Mmes. Edward Patterson and Thomas C. Kallam.

The Lafayette Veterans Hall on Mt. Diablo Boulevard will be a veritable Farmer Brown's barn for one night on September 12.

In the entry hall baskets of fruit, cornstalks and scarecrows will be used.

This theme will continue in the ballroom where Mike Halloran's Debonaires, renamed for this occasion Debonaire Dudes, will play for smooth dancing.

The Debonaires are a group of young men who have been playing together for several years. They organized while in high school and now are combining music with a college career.

Downstairs where dinner will be served from 6:30 until 10:30 p.m. tables will be covered with white cloths and centered with red roses and ivy. Old kerosene lamps will add atmosphere as well as light for the diners.

General chairman of the event is Mrs. Thomas F. Kling. She states that all Mayten members will be garbed alike in red and white checked skirts and white blouses and Mayten husbands will wear similarly checked shirts.

In addition to the decorating committee appointed by Mrs. Kling are other chairmanships, namely: Dinner arrangements by Mrs. George H. Stratos, tickets are the charge of Mrs. Walter Ammon, games will be handled by Mrs. Thomas C. Kallam, and publicity by Mrs. Myron W. Osmunson.

Assisting these chairmen will be Mmes. David L. Barton, John H. Everett, Albert Johanson, Ross Mainwaring, R. E. Melrose, Edward Patterson, Roger Patterson, Robert Stewart, William Wignall, Roger Willett, and Anthony Yeiberti.

Tickets may be obtained from any branch member or by calling Mrs. Walter Ammon at CLifford 4-2638. Proceeds go to the benefit of Children's Hospital.

Local Couple's Troth Revealed At Swim Party

A swim party for former Acalanes High School classmates recently was the setting for the formal announcement of the engagement of Judybeth Sprague and Stephen Lewis.

The party was held at the home of Judybeth's parents, the Robert Spragues, 711 Los Calles Drive, Lafayette. Stephen's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Lewis, 3969 Los Arabis Drive, Lafayette.

Red roses and carnations on a driftwood centerpiece and balloons with "Judybeth and Stephen" written on them floating in the pool served to make the announcement official.

Judybeth was graduated from Acalanes and is studying at Diablo Valley College. Her fiancé is a graduate of Oakland High School and is a student at the University of California at Davis.

Cocktails will be served around the pool and under the oaks surrounding the spot and guests will have the opportunity to stay on for a barbecued steak dinner.

Decorations will fit into the outdoor Western theme with all Pandora members acting as hostesses in casual cottons and their husbands dressed in gaily colored vests and cowboy or bowler hats.

Dancing under the stars will be enjoyed on the large outdoor dance floor.

Co-chairmen for the party are Mrs. Vernon Axelson and Mrs. Conway Smith.

Laurel Junior Is Planning Party

Laurel Junior members, Children's Hospital of the East Bay, will take time out from a busy September schedule, on the 19th, for an informal "For Fun" party at the Lafayette home of the Perry Holmeses, 3169 Stanwood Lane.

Vacations will be shared, as well as plans for Laurel Junior's annual fall fashion show at the Claremont Hotel October 1.

Anne Bryant Marries L. TeSelle

Vivid splashes of fall colors accentuated the warm interior of Hillcrest Congregational Church as Anne Bryant and Lester TeSelle were united in marriage last Saturday.

Rev. A. Ray Petty performed the simple ceremony before a small gathering of friends of the Pleasant Hill couple.

Standing with their parents were the four young daughters, the Misses Judy and Nancy TeSelle and Kathleen and Joan Bryant. Best man duties were handled by the groom's brother, Wilbur TeSelle. Performing ushering chores were John Gillan and Robert Rupprecht.

A RECEPTION in the Fellowship Hall of the church followed the rites. Mrs. Thomas P. Butterfield and Mrs. Robert Rupprecht were hostesses.

Out of town guests included Mrs. James Laughlin of Denver, the bride's mother; Miss Betty Beresford of San Francisco, cousin of the bride; Wilbur TeSelle of Stockton, the Arie TeSelle of Bozeman, Montana; the Joseph Ottersons of San Carlos; Mrs. Polly TeSelle of Arlington, Calif.; the Roy Shetells of Riverside; and the Norris Woodworths of Riverside.

An unusual type of wedding shower was given earlier for Anne.

The theme was "Graduation" since she spent the summer doing special work under a Fellowship from Reed College, Portland, Oregon.

THE HOSTESSES for the party, Joan Butterfield, Winnie Rupprecht, and a cousin of the bride, Betty Beresford of San Francisco, donned mortarboards and presented a complete, though streamlined, program of commencement exercises.

Also participating were Mrs. Bryant's two daughters, Kathleen and Joan, and her fiancé's two daughters, Judy and Nancy TeSelle.

Farmers Warned To Scare Birds

The California Department of Fish and Game and Regional Director Leo Laythe of the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service issued a joint warning to grain farmers today that the annual southward migration of waterfowl can start any time.

Rice and other crops are particularly vulnerable at this time. This year farmers are urged to take the initiative in frightening waterfowl away from private land onto state and federal waterfowl management areas. These areas have been planted with crops designed to hold waterfowl once they arrive.

Fish and Game Director William E. Warne stated: "Our crops are ready—it's up to the farmer to shoo the ducks our way." He asked farmers to purchase the various frightening devices available, including cracker shells and carbide exploders. "Now is the time to get a supply of these items, Warne said. 'Don't let flocks build up to attract migrants. There is plenty

Suburban Woman's Club Will Hold Barbecue Event

Lafayette Suburban Woman's Club members and their husbands will hold their annual barbecue at Wildwood Acres in Lafayette on Saturday, September 5.

"Suburban Safari" will be this year's theme. The "Safari" will pass "The Pygmy Huts," Suspension Bridge, Eucalyptus Forest, Elephant Path, Alligator Swamp and Trading Post" en route to "Wildwood Interior," where barbecued steak and chicken dinners will be devoured.

Pre-dinner cocktails will be served outdoors in the lovely wooded setting. After-dinner entertainment will be provided by Mrs. W. S. Ferriter and Bud Dullin of "Laf-Francies." Dancing will round out the evening's fun, while swimming will be enjoyed by the group, starting in the afternoon. Committee members who have worked during the summer in planning the barbecue are Chairman Mrs. H. N. Breckling, Mrs. Gordon E. Frazell, Mrs. Roger Morrison and Mrs. Marcel Lescure. Mrs. Herbert L. Christman is in charge of reservations and Mrs. R. D. Young arranged for entertainment.

On September 10 club meetings will resume under the leadership of Mrs. George Haber, president. Philanthropic projects for the coming year will be a topic of discussion at that time.

Membership chairman, Mrs. Richard Stultz, will be in charge of an affair to be given for prospective members on October 3.

Suburban members will assist the junior organization by helping to staff their booth at the Walnut Festival starting September 27.

The Lafayette Suburban Woman's Club has again voted to sponsor "Laf-Francies," the annual variety show given for the benefit of the Lafayette Community Center. Along with the juniors, they will be in charge of ticket sales for the show which will be held on three weekends, starting October 9.

Carmen Basilio, Fullmer Fight Tonight at Palace

The local area has taken more than usual interest in the middleweight title bout slated to get underway in the San Francisco Cow Palace tonight.

The main event, between Carmen Basilio and Gene Fullmer, is set for 7 p.m. sharp.

The two outstanding fighters made an appearance at the Concord Quarterback dinner meeting held at the Monument Bowl last week before a sellout crowd of better than 250.

Ray Robinson, who had been the recognized title holder, has forfeited the crown in the eyes of the boxing commissions of all states except New York and Massachusetts. Tonight's winner will be the recognized champ.

It is interesting to note that both are former middleweight titleholders having beaten and in turn been beaten by Sugar Ray Robinson.

Basilio, who hails from New York, and Fullmer, who comes by way of Utah, are both known for their aggressive styles. This, plus the fact that they are always well conditioned fighters, could well produce a classic at the Cow Palace.

Basilio is the lighter of the two by virtue of his boxing skill and wide experience is rated as a 2-1 favorite. Fullmer, however, has his share of backers. The real story will be told in 15 rounds or less tonight.

Scotty Russell Talks Golf

The 'Positive Approach': Key To Satisfying Golf

By NEIL N. RUSSELL
F.G.A. Instructor

Let me ask some simple questions, golfers.

Do you believe it possible to swing a golf club correctly without first understanding how it is done?

Do you really feel that without your power to think that you can some day become a skilled artist in this specialized field?

The many tens of thousands who approach their weekly golf have never been to see a golf teacher in action. Why?

There can be just one answer. You seem to expect a miracle to happen. You are taking far too much for granted, yet the urge to play a better game seems to become an obsession.

Unfortunately as it may seem, you have just one opening left, that of becoming an ardent golfer through fundamental knowledge.

To become sure of yourself you must follow sound procedures and develop the things worth fighting for—thorough, sound techniques. It is my sole purpose to try and bring home to every golfer the underlying mental approach so essential to a good golf game.

The same factual approach by which we enjoy a good life, obeying the laws of life itself, can be applied to whatever we set ourselves to perform.

You are anxious to learn how to play a consistent game of golf, and, if you will permit me to tell the truth, your approach is one of ignorance.

You seem to feel that the game is a pushover, that you can, with imitation, learn to hit a golf ball like some skilled master of the game.

It never comes off. Yet, as a person with some sort of successful living standards, you continue to experiment, read books and listen to everyone and their pet ideas. You do everything, except what should seem the logical approach—to seek out a sound teacher, and go at your recreational diversion soundly, with fundamental understanding.

We find ourselves in the rough much of the time, and of course our minds wander. We become dismayed with the bad luck that seems to follow. We are always breathing a negative answer.

You get the answer to whatever you visualize.

Think of the bad results, and you will produce them. Try to envision that no such obstacle exists. And that you can strike the ball from the rough just as the skilled golfer can, and you then receive the answer to your mental problems.

The golfer's proposition lies before him. If he wishes to become a skilled person in his recreational pastime then he must approach his objective sensibly.

Take lessons, obey your teacher, do his bidding, practice diligently, refuse to permit resistance to disturb your practice habits. Think. Apply your knowledge to the task at hand.

As a teacher of golf I have yet to find one pupil who admits that he is not anxious to improve his game. They all tell me of their golfing obstacles, their ambitions to play a better game, that is why I'm here. I want them to improve. My advice is very simple: you must do as I say, you must follow tried and sound fundamentals, be a willing pupil, practice hard, and never think of your past bad habits.

Forget these past obstacles. You can never surmount the barriers. There is only one sound approach—become a positive person in everything you set your

More Light on Prep Ball With New Ram Nite Lites

By ERWIN MATTSON

There will be "more light" on prep football this year as the Pleasant Hill Rams put their newly acquired lighted field into action. It also lessens the play at Diablo High over Concord way where the Rams formerly played many of their home games.

That leaves Pacifica, Miramonte and Clayton Valley as the only ones without lighted fields. Clayton Valley will use Diablo facilities a good part of the time while Pacifica will use Pittsburg Stadium when available.

Miramonte for the record has played their home games in the afternoon. Last year they planned on using the Acalanes field but a thoughtless act on the part of irresponsible individuals resulted in the games being cancelled out.

I HAD THE good fortune last week of seeing and hearing Carmen Basilio and Gene Fullmer in their appearance before the Concord quarterback Club.

The two are contrasted in many respects. Basilio is high strung and a bit on the small side as far as middleweights are concerned. It is known that without too much trouble he could make the welterweight requirement of 147 pounds and under.

In the fight game as a rule the heavier the division the more dramatic for a given contest. That's probably the deciding factor in Basilio's decision to fight in the heavier division where a larger gate makes him happier along with Uncle Sam's revenue agents.

Fullmer is a good sized middleweight and seems much calmer in his outlook. He is somewhat of a homespun philosopher who stated that the most important factor in becoming a successful fighter is to actually fight! Fight critics attest to the fact that both are national fighters who enjoy the rough going and rightfully belong to the beak busting profession.

IN TRAVELING around this summer it was interesting to note how many homes with lawns that would take 15 to 30 minutes to cut by hand had impressive motorized units despite the fact that one or more male teenagers were on hand to do the job. I know of one case where a teenage unit was used by a teenage boy who all summer long was taking a well paid gym conditioning course to build up his arms and legs!

Then there were the two boys who were going to work out on the football field for conditioning purposes involving primarily running drills.

The fact that they were less than two blocks from the field didn't prevent them from enlisting the aid of dad—to drive them. One thing certain is that they went in style and came back the same way.

The average milk production per milk cow in the U.S. has increased by over 1,400 pounds per year since 1940.

Prep Practice Underway; First Games in 3 Weeks

The annual North-South prep football classic was held last month and the local East-West game was held last night at Kezar stadium.

But the Bay Area preps really got into action in full force today as they reported for practice sessions to ready themselves for the first practice games which are about three weeks away.

Hundreds have had their required physical examinations and were issued gear early in the week so as to get off to a flying start in today's first practice.

Chalk talks and conditioning drills were a part of everybody's routine with stress laid on individual skills and assignments.

Many clubs will hold two-day workouts until school starts September 10.

THE FOOTHILL division of the Diablo Valley Athletic League looks to be wide open with Piedmont and San Ramon in the favorite role.

Acalanes could be rated the dark horse although summer injuries have already cut into the Don ranks before the season has gotten underway.

Las Lomas, last year's champs, were heavily hit by graduation but did have a championship Junior Varsity to draw on.

Miramonte finished in the cellar last year and Coach Bob Brooks has a job ahead of him to stay out of it this year.

IN THE Contra Costa division Diablo of Concord won in '58 but hardly figures to repeat in '59 as graduation hit them heavily.

It looks like a battle between Pittsburg and the Pleasant Hill Rams, who have more than their share of veterans on hand.

hand to, know that within your thinking powers lie the beginning of everything that is good. You were endowed with a center of control that to this date has never been closely imitated, yet look how we disparage our God-given faculties.
Golfers, begin to use your thinking powers to help you understand how to play a consistent game of golf. It is so easy to acquire sound, factual knowledge that will serve your every purpose, provided you are really sincere with yourself. There is no way to successful accomplishment other than sound fundamental education so badly lacking in the teaching of this wonderful game of golf.

How about it, golfer? You are the one. The success or failure lies with you. Continue along negative lines and you will receive negative answers. Think positively and you will rejoice with the answers. They will all be positive.

Wally Marsh won the Tilden Recreational Golf tournament Sunday, August 23, by the lopsided score of 7 and 6.
This young man has all the earmarks of great talent. He has unlimited skill as a golfer, and should someday climb the ladder of success in this international sport. It is a win that can do Wally much good if he follows sound instruction. Salutations for a job well done.

The Northern California Golf Association held its annual tournament this last week end. Two courses were used, Orinda Country Club and Sequoyah Country Club. Some of the top names in our area were included in the large entry.

Both courses played much harder than is usually the case. The tournament will come to an end next Sunday over the Sequoyah Country Club. Already the writing is on the wall. To my mind much could be done
